Flooding

be flowing very slowly. Not being an expert himself, Wilson contacted Tatman and requested that Conley investigate. Both checked the situation Wednesday in the company of O'Brien.

Conley noted that even though the two tiles combined (the existing eight and 10-inch tiles) appear to have adequate volume to carry the water, each is so small that it is easily blocked by debris. The fact that Rawlings Street does not have curbs adds to the problem of debris in the lines, he added.

Conley and Bird agreed with Wilson that some blockage apparently exists.

The ideal solution to stop the flooding, Conley said, is to lower the level of the street by at least a foot, install curbs and replace the two smaller storm tiles with one larger tile which is less apt to become blocked. It would be an extensive, and expensive, operation, he added.

Bird agreed that a larger tile for storm drainage would be desirable, but said he was not sure the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) would approve this type of project for federal funding. At present, approval has only been granted for installation of sanitary sewer lines.

Bird said that a detailed study of the drainage problem and discussions with the EPA would be necessary before any final plan of action was determined.

However, he added unless the level of the street is lowered, or the homeowners take steps to improve the drainage of their own properties, the backyard flooding will continue regardless of the improvement of the area's sewer drainage.

Remap conference set in Cleveland

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A federal judge in Cleveland has scheduled a conference for Friday with counsel for Statehouse Democrats seeking to block or delay Gov. James A. Rhodes' bid to draw new election districts for Ohio's legislature.

Separate motions were filed in the court of Judge Frank J. Battisti on Wednesday on behalf of Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson, a Democratic member of the apportionment board, and Rep. Michael P. Del Bane, D-56 Hubbard, who already has filed to run for re-election in November in his Youngstown area district.

Ferguson's motion, filed by Democratic Atty. Gen. William J. Brown, asks the judge to clarify whether the five-member board—dominated 3-2 by Republicans with Rhodes as chairman—can legally meet Feb. 23 as requested by Rhodes.

The auditor said he thinks the board by law can meet only every 10 years following each federal census, unless an existing apportionment plan were to be held invalid by a court. The present plan, drafted by Democrats when they controlled the board in 1971, has been upheld by Judge Battisti. His ruling was left undisturbed after appeals extended all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Del Bane's motion, by his own attorney, Eugene Green, asks Battisti to determine if Rhodes is acting in violation of an injunction the judge issued in 1973 prohibiting further litigation over the issue in any state or federal court.

It was not known if Friday's conference will be in open court.

Rhodes said when he announced the board's Feb. 23 meeting that he wants to ask Battisti to vacate or modify his 1973 injunction. The 66-year-old governor claims the apportionment plan, which led to Democratic takeover of the House 59-40 and the Senate 21-12, violates Ohio's Constitution, and that the judge should permit his challenge to be heard in state courts.

Battisti is a Democrat. Early on in the legal struggle that started after Democrats adopted their 1971 plan, he fined Rhodes' chief aide at the time, John M. McElroy, for violating a similar court decree. The fine of $5,000 later was reduced to $500. McElroy now is Rhodes' adviser for federal revenue sharing. He said he is not involved in the governor's current apportionment effort.

Besides Rhodes and Ferguson, the other members of the apportionment board are GOP Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, Sen. Anthony O. Calabrese, D-22 Cleveland, and Rep. Frederick N. Young, R-38 Dayton. Young was named by legislative Republicans recently to replace Robert A. Manning, an Akron Republican who served as a minority board member in 1971 when it drew the present plan.

Jobs bill veto likely to stand

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders of the House attempt to override President Ford's veto of a $6.1-billion jobs bill say congressional support for the bill may be declining as the unemployment rate goes lower.

The House is scheduled to take up the veto today and, if the vote there is to override, the Senate would take up the bill within hours.

Democrats calculated they need about 25 Republican votes in the House to provide the two-thirds majority to override. They looked for them among the 62 Republicans who voted for the bill when the House originally passed it, 321 to 80 — more than the two-thirds needed to override the veto.

Original passage in the Senate was by voice vote and the override contest was considered extremely close there.

Local government officials have backed the bill, and a delegation of Democratic mayors met with leaders of both chambers Wednesday. Capitol sources said the White House was working equally hard to hold Republicans in support of the veto.

Democratic sponsors of the measure contend the bill would yield more than 600,000 jobs, many of them in the construction industry where unemployment is much higher than the national average. Ford says the bill would create 250,000 jobs spread out over years.

Backers of the bill acknowledged that two developments have led some members to support the veto. One was a drop in the unemployment rate from 8.3 per cent in December to 7.8 per cent in January. The other was the introduction of a bill by Rep. Garry Brown, R-Mich., resembling that part of the vetoed measure that grants funds to state and local governments threatened with the need to lay off employees or raise taxes. Ford has endorsed it.

But the AFL-CIO challenged the new unemployment figures on Wednesday, accusing the Bureau of Labor Statistics of using "seasonal adjustment gimmickry" to make it appear there was a drop in joblessness when there actually was no substantial decline.

Highway funding picture brighter

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State transportation officials say the agency's financial health has improved considerably since budget hearings last year when they gave a gloomy prognosis to legislators.

The reassessment came before a joint House-Senate Finance Committee which has reopened hearings on the current 1975-77 budget.

"We project no loss of federal funds," Deputy Transportation Director Benjamin Brace told the panel. "We're optimistic for survival in 1976 and 1977."

Transportation Director Richard Jackson, who was unable to attend the Wednesday session, was far from optimistic at budget hearings last spring. He testified that the department was "basically broke" insofar as providing matching funds to attract federal grants.

Gov. James A. Rhodes stressed the urgency of capturing federal highway money as a major selling point for his defeated $1.75 billion transportation bond issue.

Brace said nearly $18 million in highway tax revenue, which was found to be in excess of the amount needed in 1975 for debt service, can now be used to attract federal dollars. In addition, Brace said the department had upped its projection of income from the state gasoline tax by $6.7 million over the next four months.

Also contributing to the brighter transportation picture was a Feb. 3 memo from the Federal Highway Administration reporting that some $2 million in grants, due to lapse on July 1, will remain available in the coming fiscal year.

And Brace said another $11 million to $18 million, originally due to expire July 1, 1977, will be left on the table during the second year of the biennium.

But the transportation spokesman warned that the current budget did "not face the long-range funding problems" of the department.

"All we've got is a reprieve for this fiscal year and 1977," he cautioned. "We've just shoved it ahead."

Earlier, George Denton, director of rehabilitation and correction, said his department's programs would be cut sharply unless an additional $9.5 million was provided.

Denton said the inmate population in Ohio prisons had risen by 3,940 to 11,660 in the past two years. About 2,000 more prisoners will join the rolls by mid-1977, he said.

Stocks post good gains

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market pushed ahead today, showing continued enthusiasm over a dividend increase by American Telephone & Telegraph.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up more than 4 points in the early going, and gainers took a broad lead over losers among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

AT&T announced Wednesday it was raising its quarterly dividend from 85 to 95 cents a share.

The company has more stockholders than any other in the nation. Analysts noted that favorable news involving such a major issue often gives the general market a psychological lift.

AT&T shares, which gained 3/4 to 56 1/2 Wednesday, didn't trade in the early moments today.

Reynolds Metals climbed a point to 37 3/4. The company announced plans to resume aluminum production on three lines, citing increased demand.

On Wednesday the Dow Jones industrial average climbed 9.52 to 960.09, gaining back part of its 21.33-point loss over the previous three sessions.

Zoo deer said slain

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two hunting arrows and the "internal remains" of a deer were found Tuesday outside the fence at the Columbus Zoo's water treatment plant, leading officials to conclude poachers were responsible for the disappearance of a deer named Bambi.

Zoo director Benjamin Blackson said the three-year-old doe was missing when staff members went to feed her. She apparently had been killed and dressed the night before.

The 110-pound whitetail had been in the children's zoo until last fall when she was moved inside the nine-foot chain link fence surrounding the plant just north of the zoo.

Profs claim taconite tests faulty

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Two professors say they do not agree with the theory that results of tests on animals can be interpreted to mean taconite tailings discharged by Reserve Mining Co. are not a threat to human health along Lake Superior's North Shore.

They commented on the eve of another hearing in the lengthy environmental case. U.S. District Judge Edward J. Devitt was scheduled to hear arguments on the filtration cost issue Wednesday.

Reserve attorneys argue that the Silver Bay, Minn., firm should not be liable for cost of emergency filtration of municipal water at Duluth and other North Shore communities. The U.S. Corps of Engineers, which has been filtering the water, estimates it could cost up to $6 million. The corps has asked Devitt to order Reserve to take over the filtration costs.

The State of Minnesota contends that asbestos fibers found in the municipal water systems along the North Shore come from finely ground waste rock discharged by Reserve into Lake Superior. The state contends the fibers are a serious potential health hazard.

Man gets war medals years late

PEEBLES, Ohio (AP) — Howard Clark, 60, Peebles, Ohio, who put up with 31 years of ragging because he claimed to be Adams County's most decorated war hero, saw it come to an end last week.

Without explanation, Clark received 12 medals through the mail from the U.S. Army without explanation for tardiness.

"Ain't it something," said Clark, who remains on a total disability pension for wounds suffered in World War II.

"I just came home one day and there were the 12 medals, all boxed up on the porch."

They include a Purple Heart, a Bronze Star, three Battle Stars and a Continuous Service medal.

Clark was discharged from the Army in late 1945. However, he remained in Veterans Hospitals for many months for three wounds suffered in heavy house-to-house fighting in a small European town.

He had assumed command as a staff sergeant when all the officers in his unit had been killed, he said.

"People used to think I was medal crazy," he said.

"I told them I was promised the medals, and they used to say that I didn't really have the stuff coming to me."

"I always said that if the government didn't care enough about sending the medals, I didn't care enough about getting them."

Ohio Perspective

Remap worries state solons

By ROBERT E. MILLER

Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —

Democrats, ready to fight to protect their legislative majorities, admit privately they are worried and puzzled about Gov. James A. Rhodes' announced effort to reshape their election districts.

The 66-year-old governor is convening the apportionment board next Monday for what he said is that purpose, although some preliminary legal work will have to be done.

House Speaker Vernal G. Riffe Jr., D-89 New Boston, said he will withhold public statements but thinks the governor may be on shaky legal ground.

Rhodes, who obtained a court decision from Ohio's Republican-dominated Supreme Court in order to run for a third term in 1974, now faces a hurdle with a federal court and a judge who is a Democrat.

Judge Frank J. Battisti of the federal court system's northern Ohio district (Cleveland) issued an injunction in 1973 that banned GOP challengers of existing legislative districts. Those districts were shaped by Democrats in 1971.

He said at the time that Ohio complied with U.S. requirements for districts virtually equal in population. Rhodes said he can show that the present districts run afoul of the Ohio Constitution if Battisti will give him the opportunity. He claims the districts have many defects, among them the use of precincts—not used by census takers—in the creation of 76 House districts.

Rhodes confirmed that Monday's agenda will include discussion of a request to ask Battisti to vacate or modify his injunction. Most legal spokesmen agree the governor can't get his case into friendly state courts unless the judge honors the request.

Also, some Democrats pointed out that the only thing that has changed since Battisti ruled initially is that Rhodes has returned as governor, which has nothing to do with apportionment. They also noted that the judge currently is busy with a desegregation plan for Cleveland schools.

SWORD OF HOPE — Last year's Miss Ohio Lorrie Kapsta hands the symbolic Sword of Hope to Richard Anthony, left, Fayette County cancer crusade chairman, and Ernie Wilson, county co-chairman, during a recent statewide meeting of the American Cancer Society in Columbus.

Anthony and Wilson attended the two-day meeting to map strategy for the 1976 crusade in Ohio. The Sword of Hope is the registered trademark of the American Cancer Society. The goal for this year's cancer crusade in Fayette County is $20,000.

Cancer treatment said not absolute

MILAN, Italy (AP) — The leader of an Italian team that has discovered a combination drug treatment hailed as a breakthrough in treatment of breast cancer warns it is not an "absolute remedy" and that more testing will be needed.

"Let's hope we can save thousands of lives," Dr. Gianni Bonadonna said in an interview Wednesday night. "Hopes are justified. But there is no certainty. More tests and studies over the next three years will be needed."

Bonadonna and a team of associates at the National Cancer Institute of Italy developed a treatment combining three drugs which resulted in a sharp reduction in the recurrence of the disease among women who had been operated on for advanced breast cancer. The treatments and the results were reported this week in the New England Journal of Medicine and termed of "monumental importance."

The three drugs are cyclophosphamide, methotrexate and fluorouracil, or CMF.

"The drugs we used for our study are on the market and available to patients for treatment in community hospitals," Bonadonna said. "But patient and public opinion must not think we have developed the absolute remedy."

"The main point is that physicians should be aware of the new possibility and that patients learn that something is being done for them," the 41-year-old doctor said.

His team reported that in a 27-month experiment with 386 women who had had radical mastectomies — removal of the breast, lymph nodes and nearby muscles, cancer recurred in 5 per cent of the 207 women who had the combined drug treatment for a year and in 24 per cent of the 179 who did not get the drugs.

Bonadonna said the next step in his study is to treat patients for six months to determine the effectiveness of the combined drugs when administered for a shorter period of time.

Bonadonna said his team's work was based on studies by two doctors at the U.S. National Cancer Institute at Bethesda, Md., Paul P. Carbone and B.

Fisher, "who already were testing treatment on operated women with a single drug." The Italian team also received financial support from the American cancer institute.

Nixons set for trip

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former President Richard M. Nixon will arrive in Communist China exactly four years after the historic visit that restored relations between China and the United States.

Nixon leaves Friday at 9 a.m. (PST). He and his wife and aides will board a Chinese jet airliner at a little-used hangar at Los Angeles International Airport. The Nixon party will fly to Anchorage, Alaska, and then to Peking by way of Tokyo, arriving in Peking on Saturday.

Though he is making the trip as a private citizen, Nixon is expected to be a guest of honor and reportedly will be greeted by Communist party Chairman Mao Tse-tung.

Mao welcomed Nixon's daughter Julie Eisenhower and her husband, David, during their 12-day visit to China last month.

Contempt charge results in fine

Washington C.H. Municipal Court Judge John P. Case Wednesday fined a Washington C.H. area man who had been arrested on a bench warrant for contempt of court.

Harry Chakeres, 38, of 3616 CCC Highway-E, had been summoned to appear earlier on charges that he had failed to submit to the Department of Industrial Relations plans for alteration of a building located at 131 S. Fayette St.

Chakeres was found guilty on the contempt of Court charge and fined $50. He was also found guilty on the original charge and fined $500 with $400 of the amount suspended, provided he receive approval from the Department of Industrial Relations for his building project, and comply with their decisions by May 28.

There were 1,019 telegraph offices in Ohio in 1887 with 1,158 employees.

Two Middle School pupils hurt

Three assault incidents probed

Three separate assault incidents involving juveniles, two of which occurred at the Washington C.H. Middle School, were reported to Washington C.H. police officers Wednesday. Sheriff's deputies reported a shoplifting offense.

A 17-year-old Washington C.H. youth stopped his car at Chick and Bills tavern on Delaware Street at 3:54 p.m. to drop off a friend. He was approached by two male youths, one of whom told him to get out of the car. As he got out of the car, one of the waiting youths allegedly pulled out a knife and attempted to slash the youth across the face. He avoided injury by jumping back into the car and driving off. However, the alleged assailant was able to break a window on the car before the vehicle drove away. Police are investigating the incident.

A 15-year-old Washington C.H. Middle School student was allegedly pushed down the stairs by two other students at 12:55 p.m. The student sustained bruises to her left eye. The matter was settled by school authorities who took disciplinary action on the two offenders.

Another assault incident at the Washington C.H. Middle School occurred at 3:30 p.m. and involved a 15-year-old student who was reportedly thrown down and beaten by two waiting juveniles. He managed to get away, but not before sustaining minor head injuries, according to police officers.

A tape player, a citizen's band radio, and a movie projector were reportedly stolen from a car belonging to James C. Ingram, 18, Rt. 3. The articles were apparently stolen sometime between 4 p.m. and 9:15 p.m. Wednesday while Ingram's car was parked in Washington Square Shopping Center parking lot. It was believed that a coat hanger had been used to gain entry to the car and remove the contents valued at $457.

A prybar was apparently used in the process of removing a tape player and two tapes from a car belonging to Joy Wynne, 4570 Washington-Waterloo Road parked at the Clark's Cardinal store. The theft occurred between 6 p.m. and 10 p.m. while the complainant was working at the store.

Sheriff's deputies reported that

Frank Heyob, 51, of Winchester, was arrested for shoplifting a pump type oil can from Seaway discount store, CCC Highway-W. Store officials said Heyob placed the item in his pocket and attempted to leave the store without paying for it.

A two-way radio microphone valued at $40 was reportedly stolen from a truck belonging to Phillip's Rental Co., 276 W. Oakland Ave. The theft apparently occurred Tuesday night, as a broken right wing window was discovered Wednesday morning, police said.

Roses, and Other Things

By Howard Knutson (Rosey)

Continuing our consideration of roses and water: What kind of water will be best to use? Natural, rain water would be most satisfactory, but we can't control this supply. Some people catch rain water in barrels or even cisterns for later use — this is fine if you can catch enough for your needs. A few people are lucky enough to be located beside streams, ponds, or lakes, and can use this source. I have known of people using the water from a child's wading pool instead of just dumping it when changing the water; this is alright if you have not added chlorine too recently. Most of us, however, must depend upon a city water supply. Try to use water from an outlet before it reaches a water softener, firstly to save the expense of softening chemicals, and, more important, to prevent using water with a high content of added chemicals, which can eventually become dangerous for the plant.

We don't think about drinking water as being dangerous, but over a long period of time it can be to plants. Rain water has almost no mineral content, so does not add minerals to our soil. Well and city water always have some, more or less depending on location. You can notice this in containers used to boil water, in the form of deposits left behind. When we use such a source continually for watering, each time a little of the minerals are left in the ground from water used by the plant or evaporation; this process may take years, but eventually these will reach such a level that they will interfere with the ability of the plant to properly take up water, and plant growth will suffer. This problem is especially bad when the soil is basically clay, and good soil and gravel are used to fill a dry pit in order to provide an area for a flower bed and drainage. Here we end up with what has been termed a "bath-tub effect": water merely runs into the gravel area at the pit bottom and lies there until evaporation finally occurs, building up high mineral concentrations.

How can we prevent this mineral buildup? First, we have to provide good drainage, so that excess water will completely run off, not just lie in the bottom of the bed. Next, we can incorporate a little gypsum into our soil every season, or at least every other season. This tends to help leach out excess toxic minerals, especially sodium, and at the same time will improve the texture and friability of clay soils, further improving drainage.

A factor often overlooked, even by experienced gardeners, is the effect of air movement on water needs. A plant transpires water through its leaves, and an exposed area with a constant air flow will lose (and therefore will need) more water than a protected area. Ideally you should have frequent light breezes to keep the air slowly moving, and prevent air stagnation. If the area is too exposed, you can break air flow by using air foils — shrubs, fences, small trees — to protect the beds and slow the air.

Springfield man eyes Senate seat

SPRINGFIELD — "This year the electorate is naming the issues," said John K. Mahoney, who today announced his intention to seek the Tenth District Ohio Senate seat.

"In every community in this district and in Ohio people want a less complicated government and a more responsive government. The real question is who is willing to take action," said the 26-year-old Mahoney.

The Tenth Senate District is comprised of portions of Clark, Fayette, Clinton, Greene, Highland and Madison counties. The southern portion of the district includes the communities of Wilmington, Hillsboro and Washington C.H. The seat is currently being held by State Sen. Max H. Dennis, a Wilmington Republican.

A Democrat, Mahoney is a city commissioner and assistant mayor in Springfield.

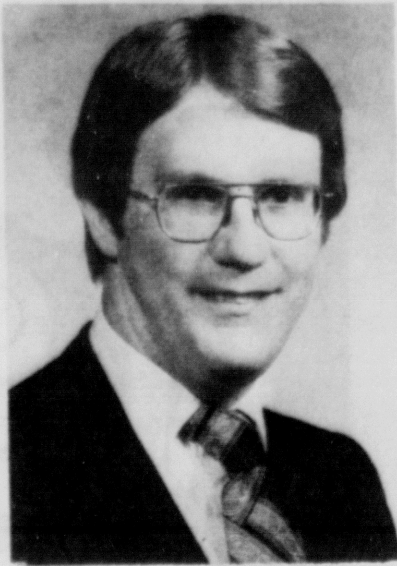

In November of 1973, Mahoney was the youngest city commissioner ever elected in the city of Springfield. In January, he was elected assistant mayor by the city commissioners.

He has served on the Clark County Regional Planning Commission, as a liaison to the city's human relations board, the community development advisory committee and as chairman of the Springfield mass transit committee.

Currently he is also a member of the National League of Cities transportation committee and the Ohio Municipal League's committee on finance and taxation.

Before entering city government, Mahoney attended Marian College in Indianapolis, Ind., and Spaulding College in Louisville, Ky., where he received a bachelor of science degree in religion and philosophy. He has completed graduate work at the Earlham School of Religion. He is a member of the Springfield Sertoma Club and the Clark County Democratic Executive Committee.

Ohio Weather Story

By The Associated Press
February will be back today, the National Weather Service said.

The showers and thundershowers that flooded rivers and streams in half a dozen northeastern Ohio counties were to end early today, but the forecast there called for snow flurries.

The mercury could rise as high as 40 today, the weather service said, but would plunge back into the 20s tonight.

CIA man gets 'bugged'

CINCINNATI (AP)—Bugged by the presence of tape recorders, a CIA officer Wednesday refused to begin his lecture at the University of Cincinnati until the electronic devices were turned off.

Gary Foster, a coordinator of academic relations for the Central Intelligence Agency, made the unusual request a day after President Gerald Ford's reorganization of the intelligence-gathering arm.

Foster explained his stand, saying "it would be 1,000 per cent inappropriate for me to interpret President Ford's speech before people at higher levels in my department."

Several radio news reporters walked out of the room, while others remained and took notes.

Foster, invited to the campus as a guest speaker, said he sees the President's action as a move to put more authority behind the CIA director.

'Dear teacher, dear class'

By LEWIS PARRETT
City Elementary Coordinator
Miss Cynthia Jean Morton and her class of 62 kindergarten pupils at Belle Aire Elementary School are featured this week in "Dear Teacher-Dearest Class." She has 31 students in each of her morning and afternoon classes.

Miss Morton was born in Columbus and resided there with her family until she was eight years old. The family then moved to Washington C.H. where she attended Belle Aire Elementary School, the school where she now teaches. She graduated from Washington Senior High School in the class of 1970.

After high school, she attended Kentucky Christian College for three years and Morehead State (Ky.) University for two years. While in college, she was a cheerleader for two years and captain of the cheerleaders one year. She was also secretary of her junior class, secretary of her dormitory council, statistician for the wrestling team, and a member of the Student National Education Association. Following her active life on campus, she received her bachelor of arts degree in the field of elementary education.

Miss Morton is in her first year of teaching in the city school system and did her student teaching at Tilton Hogge Elementary School in Cranston, Kentucky. She also spent three years working in the summer Head Start program here.

She lives at 902 Sycamore Street with her mother, Dorothy. She has a brother, Dan, and a sister-in-law, Pam, of Mount Sterling.

Presently, Miss Morton is working toward her master's degree in education through the Ohio University at Chillicothe and Xavier University. She has many hobbies that she enjoys in her spare time. Among them are water skiing, traveling, sewing, playing tennis, sports as a spectator and participant, involvement with children, helping with the youth at church, working with her St. Bernard, and camping with family and friends. Her favorite colors are yellow and blue, her favorite food is spaghetti, steak, and scalloped potatoes, and her favorite places are near the mountains and ocean.

During the summertime, Miss Morton not only has taught in the Head Start program and Vacation Bible School but also has worked as a lifeguard at the city pool.

Her classes enjoy many varied things including listening to stories, doing work jobs, singing, kickball, tag, swinging and sliding. During the first semester, their Thanksgiving was a little different. To give them a more realistic understanding of the first Thanksgiving, the students and Miss Morton dressed like Pilgrims and Indians at covered tables. For their feast, they had a 16 pound turkey. They learned from this how thankful they really should be all the time and especially for our country.

This coming spring, the class plans to study the farm and its animals by taking a field trip to a farm. Later, they will study basic health habits, learn sounds we use in our language, work to improve their body management skills, and experience working with each other.

Next week, they will be studying a unit about foods by taking a field trip to Pennington Bakery. They will be continuing their study of sounds and the alphabet, working with sets and classifications in math, and general everyday activities.

Kindergarten Valentines

Miss Morton said, "To love, share, be honest, and care are the most important virtues of a teacher. Without the simplicity of a child, we could not put these into being. Watching a child grow and discover new things are most rewarding for a teacher."

When asked what he enjoyed most about kindergarten, one little boy replied, "Doing our work jobs and making things." One little girl said, "I like the way we love each other best." The host and hostess will vary from time to time during the week.

Miss Morton and her classes extend a warm welcome and a big invitation to everyone that would like to see what kindergarten is all about. The best times are from 10 to 12 and from 1:30 until 3 except Wednesday when the class will be at Pennington's.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 20

ARIES

(March 21 to April 20)

Reflexes, intuition and business acumen should be keen now. Especially favored under day's influences: research, merchandising, all business transactions.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)

Day calls for your best judgment. You may feel "lukewarm" about some suggestions made, but look into them anyway. They COULD prove of value.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

Fine influences! Enterprise, resourcefulness and initiative should spark the day and give you a brand new outlook on all activities.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

Do not pay much attention if associates seem difficult. Some persons may be "edgy" now, so don't take unseemly action personally.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Never mind the odds against you; keep working toward your objectives. There is always a way for the imaginative, optimistic, willing worker. And you are that!

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

More gains indicated than you may anticipate. But there will be SOME obstacles, so pick your way alertly and cautiously, but without anxiety.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Accept the fact that, temporarily, differences of opinion in your circle will be inevitable. Thus, you'll watch your step and do nothing to increase tensions.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

A good day for activation ideas regarding financial expansion. Opportunities for advancing, career-wise, also indicated.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

An exciting, stimulating day! Act with confidence. Luck is with you in dealing with superiors.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Curb inclinations toward extravagance. If you overspend on credit or impulse buying now, you'll regret it later.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Your imagination stimulated, but don't go to extremes in anything. Be especially careful on the social front where you COULD overtax yourself.

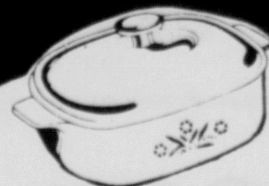

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March. 20)

An inspiring day for romance and creative activities. In the latter connection, an avocation may prove to have remunerative value.

YOU BORN TODAY are governed by Neptune, thus have an intense love of the sea and could succeed in almost any occupation which has a maritime aspect. In fact, being essentially artistic and intellectual in your leanings, you are far more likely to embrace a profession for a career than to enter the commercial world, with one exception - ship-building. You are an idealist at heart and a profound thinker. You would make an outstanding philosopher, psychologist, sociologist or educator; may also have an absorbing interest in the occult. You also have a great affinity for the stage and for music; could readily excel in either line.

OFFICIAL DESIGNATION — Scott Gerber and David Knisley, Miami Trace High School students, watch as Robert Mace, chairman of the Fayette County Board of Commissioners, officially declares February 29-March 6 "Miami Trace Scholarship Week".

Restaurant operation set

Scholarship week designated here

Washington C.H. City Council and the Fayette County Board of Commissioners have proclaimed the week of February 29 through March 6 as "Miami Trace Scholarship Week."

Members of the Miami Trace High School National Honor Society chapter will be sponsoring its fifth annual "Scholarship Day" activity at Frisch's Restaurant on Saturday, March 6. Under the direction of Frisch's Restaurant manager, Vernon Saxton, and National Honor Society advisor, Fred Doyle, student members, who have volunteered their services as waitresses, carhops, busboys, dishwashers, cashiers and hostesses, will be trained for several hours and then will "operate" the restaurant between 7 a.m. and 5 p.m. Frisch's will donate a large percentage of extra business and all tips to the scholarship fund.

During this week the Washington C.H. City Council and Fayette County commissioners urge all businesses, civic groups and residents to show their interest by contributing to the scholarship fund. The scholarships will be based mainly on financial need and ability to succeed as determined by past performance in high school.

Anyone interested in contributing to the scholarship fund can make checks payable to the Miami Trace Scholarship Fund and send them to the high school.

Mad Anne Bailey became part of Ohio's heritage

She did her own thing, this pioneer women's libber of the old Ohio frontier, and men—for the West was a man's world then—called her mad.

Actually, Mad Anne Bailey was just one of a long column of rugged individualists who marched across the pages of Ohio's early history. A few, like Anne, became legends.

It is difficult to separate truth and legend in Anne's story, but it is certain she was one of the strangest figures ever to ride the Ohio wilderness trails. She lived out the last of her 83 years in a crude cabin she built in the hills above Gallipolis.

Born in England before 1745, her first husband was killed at the Battle of Point Pleasant. A second husband, a soldier named John Bailey, also died a violent death.

Called by the Indians "The White Squaw of the Kanawha," she once rode 100 miles over the mountains and back with a cargo of gunpowder needed by a beleaguered fort.

A short burly woman, Anne dressed as the Indian scout she was, carrying rifle, shot pouch, powder horn, scalping knife and tomahawk. She chewed tobacco, drank and swore and day or night might suddenly appear at a lonely frontier station to become a living storybook to river squatters and mountaineers.

Apart from her wild life on the frontier she found time to teach a Sunday School class at Gallipolis, but aside from this one social duty she declined to mingle with community life.

Community Ed report

By HANK SHAFFER
Program Director

The past two weeks we have talked about why Community Education is an economical investment. The first week we gave six reasons why Community Education is economical and last week we spoke on the subject of how Community Education uses existing resources to best benefit the community through our program. This week I would like to tell you about who has supported the program in a substantial way financially.

As we have said before, Community Education is funded through the donations of business firms, foundations, clubs and individuals. We are in the process of giving those people some recognition for their substantial contributions toward the operation of Community Education here in the Washington C.H. area. We are making a wall plaque that will hang in the Washington C.H. Middle School with these names and the years that have contributed to our program. Those that have contributed substantially are:

Charles Stewart Mott Foundation, 1973, 1974 and 1975; Fayette County Charitable Foundation, 1974; First Federal Savings and Loan Association, 1974; First National Bank of Washington C.H., 1974; Mothers Circle, 1974; Washington C.H. Jaycees, 1974 and 1975; Washington C.H. Kiwanis Club, 1974; Washington C.H. Optimist Club, 1975; Washington C.H. Rotary Club, 1974, and the Huntington Bank of Washington C.H., 1974.

These names will be inscribed on the plaque and the names of those groups, business firms, foundations, clubs and individuals that donate substantially during 1976 will have their names put on the plaque to recognize their efforts to help our Community Education program. Anyone wishing to donate can call the Community Education office at 335-6621.

The Elks Lodge No. 129 "hoop shoot" was finished last Saturday as the winning youngsters from their individual schools competed against each other to find the area champions. The youngsters that won will be given their awards during halftime of the Washington C.H.-Circleville basketball game at Washington Senior High School Friday night. Those winning in their age group were from the ages of 8-9, 10-11 and 12-13, and there were divisions for both boys and girls.

Last night, Conchemco defeated Mac Tool to win the Community Education Industrial League with a perfect 10-0

Natural gas regulations approved

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Columbia Gas of Ohio Inc. has been authorized to re-establish service at any time for residential and small commercial customers who have had gas service, the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio said Wednesday.

The authorization was made on condition that the amount of gas used would remain about the same.

Columbia also was authorized to reconnect industrial and large commercial customers within one year.

The commission said it took the action to help redevelopment of inner-city areas in Ohio. One guideline provides that service may not be transferred out of such an area.

The PUCO also ruled that: —Unexercised gas service commitments may be terminated unless customers are ready for full service by March 1, 1977.

—Restoration of service to a new structure on the site of a recently demolished building will be permitted if service had not been transferred. Restoration must take place within five years.

—Residential or commercial property owners may transfer gas volumes from one property to another if the existing structure is demolished and the transfer occurs within five years or by Jan. 1, 1980, whichever comes first.

—Residential, commercial or industrial customers forced to relocate due to highway construction or any public project except urban renewal will be allowed to transfer service within five years or by Jan. 1, 1980, whichever comes later. Former structures must be removed, and volume of service must remain the same.

Lancaster, Ohio, was once known as French Margaret's Town.

Gore Vidal files suit

NEW YORK (AP) — Novelist Gore Vidal is suing Truman Capote, Playgirl Magazine and writer Richard Zwerick for $1 million. Vidal charges he was libeled in an article which said he got drunk at the Kennedy White House.

In papers filed Wednesday in State Supreme Court in Manhattan, Vidal said the September 1975 article in Playgirl held him up to "public contempt."

In the article, Capote was quoted as saying that Robert Kennedy, Harvard historian Arthur Schlesinger and a guard "just picked Gore up and carried him to the door and threw him into Pennsylvania Avenue" after Vidal "got drunk and insulted Jackie's mother whom he had never met before in his life."

Letters from readers of The Record-Herald

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

Federal subsidies and grants can very easily and insidiously lead to our downfall and loss of the fundamental concepts of our Republic.

Inherent in federal grants are two fundamental and, I feel, often overlooked principles. Practically all such grants require local or state matching funds. These matching requirements range from ten per cent to as much as 20 or 30 per cent — to the best of my knowledge. For example, if for a proposed project $100,000 in federal funds are requested, $10,000 (10 per cent) would be required in local matching funds and could be as much as twenty or thirty thousand.

Now, let's remember the grant of $100,000 is our money which the federal government has extracted from us principally in federal income tax. Of course, in order to get back a $100,000 grant from the government, several times that amount would have to be raised because a whole hassle of parasitic bureaucrats from here to Washington and back have had their thumbs in the pie in the form of fat salaries. So, it becomes rather obvious that a subdivision could easily bankrupt itself matching its own money with its own money. This is the first inherent principle.

Let's consider the second. In order to receive these grants, some of our freedom of management and choice are always sacrificed. Let me give you an example.

Some few years ago, a church college in Florida built a chapel. When completed, they were told by the Federal government, which furnished the grant, the chapel could not be used for religious purposes.

Recently another similar incident occurred involving a church college in Maryland. In order to qualify for a $373,000 grant, the college had to agree: (1) to remove all religious symbols from the top of the chapel, (2) limit the number of their own members on the board and teaching staff, (3) refrain from sponsoring or conducting any religious services, (4) remain totally neutral to the spiritual development, in a religious sense, of its students, (5) exclude prayers, religious hymns, or sermons in its graduation exercises. Perhaps you will agree with me that this sort of thing strikes at the most basic values of our republic and, for that matter Christian concepts in general.

I believe we need to appraise our priorities very carefully lest we lose some of our most cherished values to governmental bureaucratic demagogues.

I am aware of only one federal program which does not involve matching funds — General Revenue Sharing in which all subdivisions are eligible to participate in varying degrees.

There are two features regarding GRS. The monies are sent directly to the subdivision which greatly diminished the red tape and paper work. There are relatively very few restrictions as to its use. GRS funds cannot be used for education, payment of administrative salaries are used to match other federal monies. These desirable features are the principal reasons the GRS program is having difficulty being renewed. Not enough bureaucratic controls. Your Board of Commissioners has been very careful in the use of GRS funds.

A patriot once said, "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty".

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

The year 1975 was a mixture of troubles and assessments to prevail for the Fayette County Pilot's Association, Inc. Tears, trials and tribulations rampant worldwide did not spare Fayette County Airport. Two local pilots were taken in death. Dale Wade lost his life when he crashed during a local flight. Dr. Charles Pfersich lost his battle with an illness.

The highlights of this year were more of the positive side. Norman Crabtree, Director of Aviation for Ohio, visited Fayette County at our annual fly-in and again at a monthly meeting. He indicated that our airport might soon receive approximately $125,000 for improvement.

Our annual fly-in was a big success both financially and in attendance and presentation of events. Membership in the pilot's association did not increase spectacularly. Aviation celebrated its 72nd birthday on December 17, 1975. We have not yet realized the potential of aviation. The apathy that existed in 1903 is still with us. While the airlines have made tremendous strides in technology, proponents with an equal concern for passenger safety have been far less vocal. The lack of action in Washington, D. C., with respect to aviation, has been totally irresponsible.

The greatest resource in aviation for the lonely taxpayer is general aviation and the local airport. Die hards continue to incorrectly assess the value of their local airport. The failure of Fayette County to allocate a realistic budget for the operation of your airport is illogical. When the dog catching business of a county receives ten times as much money to operate as your airport receives, something is seriously out of balance. Your airport produces income and jobs. Your dog catching business is a dismal failure.

In the early '60's three county commissioners, Bucky Dufford, Robert Fitchthorn and Robert Mace, had the intelligence and foresight to perceive the importance of a local airport. Thanks to them along with Norman Crabtree and Governor Rhodes, we have an airport. The airport has mostly been ignored since.

It is time that we realized that Fayette County would prosper more if more attention was given to the positive aspects of industry and aviation. Why not view agriculture, industry and aviation as compatible? For too many years new industry has been actively discouraged in Fayette County. The fear of increased taxes and wages was the motivation to throttle progress.

In agriculture the trend has been for change. There are fewer farms now. Existing farms are larger. Fewer jobs are available in agriculture. Mechanization and a change in farm products has created fewer jobs. The simultaneous suppression of industrial growth has done little economically that is beneficial for the purse of local government and taxpayers.

Our county government in the last budget proposal for 1976 allocated a little over $1,000 for "Air Navigation Facility". Granted, if our commissioners are not familiar with aviation terms they could easily consult those people who are informed. An air navigation facility is not an airport. Apparently, the commissioners have decided that their budget will take care of the nondirectional radio beacon and provide nothing for the airport. The radio beacon is costing the county a mere $20 monthly to maintain. Nothing is being done to maintain existing facilities at the airport. Nothing is being done to provide for planned improvement at the airport. Nothing is being done to provide for elimination of the safety hazards caused by the cowpath leading to the airport. There exists a serious threat to life both from vehicular traffic and with respect to the wonderful children at the county home.

Nothing is being done to correct the hazard to aircraft caused by the county workers operating their farm equipment across the middle of the runway. Nothing is being done to provide proper buildings for aircraft storage and maintenance. Nothing is being done to accommodate aerial agriculture effort at our airport for the support of local farmers.

The Fayette County Pilot's Association, Inc., is dedicated to the improvement of Fayette County Airport and to the concept that general aviation benefits everyone. If we can get the county to meet their responsibilities at our airport we will have progressed.

I have enjoyed being associated with out airport for the past two years.

Hopefully, we can, through the pilot's association, continue to be an effective force for the improvement of our airport to enhance an importance asset to business and pleasure in aviation.

Jack Sanders.

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

After attending special meetings and regular council meetings there is only one thing you can say about it: It is mass confusion. They knew that they were going to impose the city income tax again so why go through all of this acting?

Four times the taxpayer has spoken and four times they have not listened. They can not seem to stop all of this spending. The time has come when some relief must be provided for the taxpayer.

The reason we are in the shape we are in today is because of the many, many mistakes in the past. This proves that our city council does not try to stay within their means. From the way it looks, they are trying to outspend the federal government.

Why aren't we, the taxpayer, allowed some voice in this officially planned "rip off" other than an opportunity to appear after the damage has been done? Haven't we reached a point where there is too much greed generated by one tax after another?

Now they do not want to show the common courtesy to our loved ones that have passed away and give them an escort to their final resting place where they can rest in peace. I say this is shameful on their part.

They passed the new sewer bill that will cost the taxpayer $23,600,000.00. Now they want to impose another income tax and if we let them do it, where will it all stop?

I'll bet you that those of us who have counted our pennies, budgeted our food bills, sacrificed our pleasures, in order to try to own a little home in which to live and try to stay out of the poorhouse, will continue to get tax bills to pay for these inexcusable errors without ever getting an opportunity to voice our approval or disapproval.

Too often during the past few years we have seen our governments (national, state, county and local) spend and spend and spend to do things less and less and then cry on the taxpayers shoulders and ask them to bail them out. How much longer can you and I afford these shenanigans?

It is my sincere hope that all of you get the message. You'd better. We've had it unless we take the actions necessary to insure that we, the taxpayers, are permitted to play a major role in determining how our city government is to be run. The experience in the past should be enough to awaken all of you. Don't you think the time has come for a change?

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

In reference to the City of Washington Income Tax Forms the following is my concept of the article "Administrator Explains Tax Responsibilities," published in The Record-Herald February 11, 1976:

My mailing name and number, as addressed on the form which I received from the City of Washington, Income Tax Department, Washington C. H., Ohio, is Arleigh R. Rankin, 000-01-2831, 4812 Harmony Rd., Washington C. H., Ohio, 43160. The form was mailed as bulk mail (not designated as first class mail). I have lived in Jasper Township for more than 68 years and all of my productive income has come from Jasper and Jefferson Townships, Fayette County, Ohio. I am retired, disabled (teched in the head), unemployed and on the dole. I have collected Medicare.

Recently, I have been harassed and worried by the above mentioned tax form and the news article. My name must have come out of thin air. It is not listed in the telephone directory and the Fayette County Directory doesn't list me as being a resident of Washington or Washington C. H., Ohio. My phone number is 614-948-2289, Milledgeville exchange. As yet, neither directory lists the status of citizens as to activity, source and amount of income, age, net worth, retired or pensioned, family status, credit rating and health as Mr. Ralston M. Smith expects. If we don't watch out there will be a law proposed by tax collectors.

Through the efforts of Mr. Smith and the Steele Data Processing Inc., I have been found, sorted and numbered for future reference. The computerization of citizens in a wanton way is now the privilege of irresponsible individuals and firms. Is it not time to wake up Americans?

My office will give to Mr. Smith a detailed, itemized statement of any of my income that is any of his affair, but not one penny will be paid to mail Mr. Smith a first class letter containing such information. It seems as though I am threatened with criminal prosecution or persecution on 12 counts, a fine of $500, six month in jail, or both, for acts committed in the past six years (1971 included). It would be hard for me to place myself before a self-professed judge and jury.

I am for Washington C. H. 100 per cent and do most of my business there although I do not derive any income from the city. As long as I am treated with courtesy it will continue as such, but certainly I am not tied to this procedure.

Taxes are certainly the business of the citizens of Washington C. H. as long as they are collected legally, without harassment, especially to non tax liable non citizens.

Jury returns mock trial verdict

After retiring to chambers for approximately 25 minutes, the jury for the 1976 Washington Senior High School Hi-Y Club mock trial reached a verdict.

Six of the eight jurors agreed that the imaginary White Plains Preparatory High School was not negligent in its teaching of William Elliott, the plaintiff. The suit was brought when William's mother discovered that William could not read and comprehend his diploma from the private high school. Mrs. Elliott and William jointly sued for nearly $520,000 in damages allegedly suffered by the plaintiff.

Eleven witnesses paraded before the jury to tell their stories in connection with the case. After nearly three hours of testimony, the student lawyers for the plaintiffs, John Walker and Daniel Rodgers, gave their closing statements. The defense attorneys, Timothy O'Flynn and Bryan Connell, followed with their summary of the testimony and evidence. Fayette County Common Pleas Court Judge Evelyn Coffman gave her instructions to the jury on the laws concerning the case and the jury retired to the jury room to deliberate the case. Shortly afterwards they returned to the courtroom with the finding for the defendants and the judgement against the plaintiffs.

The plaintiffs will now appeal the decision to the Ohio Model Supreme Court in Columbus on April 8, 9 and 10. Seven youth justices will then decide to either uphold the lower court's decision, order a retrial, or to reverse the decision completely. The youth lawyers prepare briefs and argue their cases in the actual Ohio Supreme Court chambers located in the new State Office Tower.

The jurors in the case were Ann Fenton, Linda Hollingsworth, Pam Rain falls on eastern coast

By The Associated Press
Fast moving frontal systems brought scattered precipitation to the nation this morning.

In the Northeast, freezing rain fell over the northern New England states with rain reaching from southern New England into New York and northern Pennsylvania. Some snow was reported in northern Maine and in some of the higher elevation of New Hampshire.

Showers and some isolated thundershowers hit the south Atlantic coast from eastern North Carolina into northern Florida. However, no severe weather has been reported in the nation since yesterday afternoon, when five tornadoes touched down in North Carolina.

Showers also passed through the middle Atlantic states during last evening.

There were some snow showers over northern Michigan.

Other frontal systems brought light snow to eastern North Dakota and a few rain and snow showers to Iowa, with overcast conditions elsewhere in the upper Mississippi valley.

In the West, rain was reported from western Washington into central California with some snow in the higher elevations.

Clear weather dominated a large part of the nation reaching from the southern Appalachians into the lower half of the Mississippi valley, then across most of the plains and Rocky mountain states into southern California.

Nighttime temperatures continued near or above normal for the season across most of the U.S.

Temperatures overnight ranged from 74 at Key West, Fla., to 15 at Rock Springs and Evanston, Wyo., and Butte, Mont.

Student book fair scheduled

The Washington Senior High School will sponsor a student book fair from Feb. 25 to Feb. 27. Students will be able to browse and purchase books. The book fair will be open during both lunch periods. Books will be on display in the gym.

The book fair committee invites all students, parents and visitors to attend the fair. The fair will encourage student interest in reading and in building home libraries, and will also contribute to a worthwhile project. All profits will be used to purchase additional books for the high school library. The Washington Senior High School Hi-Y Club is sponsoring this event.

The book fair display will include attractive new books from many publishers in all popular price ranges: - wonderful books to read or to give as gifts. All reading interests will be represented, including classics, fiction, biographies, adventure stories, science, nature, crafts, mystery and reference books. The committee is working with Educational Reading Service, a professional book fair company, to furnish an individual selection of books for the fair.

Will you remember me

By T.J. O'FLYNN

When my eyes are closed, I can not see.

When my legs are still, I can not go.

When my heart has stopped, I can not be.

And knowledge lost is all I know.

Even when I worked, I received no pay.

And now the total sum is less.

With or without money on this dreary day,

I'll be wearing my very best dress.

Praises are sounded night and noon.

Sounded, heard, and lost.

All sung to a sadder tune,

And all was done at no extra cost.

I hope it doesn't rain on my parade,

And I guess I'll have to sleep alone.

On this day when I'm finally laid,

I hope I'm not just a name on a stone.

Turkey season permits readied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Applications will be available starting March 1 from the state Department of Natural resources for 2,000 permits to be issued for the 1976 wild turkey hunting season.

This spring's turkey season will open April 26 and continue through May 8.

"The turkey population is sufficient this year to allow, for the first time, an uninterrupted 12-day season," said wildlife division chief Dale Haney.

Musical saw revival seen

CINCINNATI (AP)—A few years ago, it seemed that the music world was going to lose the tones of the musical saw, but thanks to practitioners such as Margaret Steinbuch, the instrument is experiencing a revival.

"If they want to hear me play, I'll try to be there," said the Mrs. Steinbuch, who like many saw players, is in her seventies. "There is nothing more satisfying than to hear someone ask me to give a saw concert. In my heart now, I know it's accepted."

Mrs. Steinbuch has ample evidence of her recent success. Her album "Margaret and Her Musical Saw" will soon be available and will make appearances at a local music store.

So much in demand is the saw musician for concerts that she has to limit her engagements. She was the first musical saw musician to perform at the Taft Museum and is a frequent entertainer at schools and hospitals.

She has already lined up spring and summer bookings and is appearing on a two-part segment of a local television show.

What delights her audiences is the fact that the saw that Mrs. Steinbuch uses is the same kind that could cut wood. Of course, hers doesn't, but one time, she picked up a workman's saw and amazed everyone by starting to play a tune.

Bumgarner holds firm lead

Harvey ups scoring average

With just one or two games remaining in the regular season for the eight South Central Ohio League teams, Circleville's Biff Bumgarner is a solid favorite for the scoring title. Only Hillsboro's Tim Fuller has a chance to catch the Tiger forward in the overall point totals.

Bumgarner has a 21.4 average while Fuller is close behind with a 20.1. Both Circleville and Hillsboro have two regular season games remaining, and Fuller will need to pick up 22 points on Bumgarner.

Rick Seeling, Fuller's teammate remains in third with an 18.7 average, but the Indian forward is too far back to challenge the leaders.

Greenfield's Steve Harvey and Circleville's George Moore are fighting for the third spot with 17-plus averages. Both centers appear to be destined for SCOL first-team honors again this season.

Harvey, who was instrumental in McClain's, post-season tournament drive last year, upped his average by two full points last week after hitting around 15 points a game for most of the season.

The 6-3 pivotman is always a threat to break the 20-point barrier, and he has been doing that consistently for the past two weeks. The Tigers are well down the list in the league standings and coach Sam Snyder's star cager has been going to the basket more.

Miami Trace's Allan Conner moved up two places in the league scoring standings while watching the last three Panther games on the sidelines with an injured wrist.

The Panther forward will be suited up Friday night to take on Harvey and the Tigers in the final game of the regular season.

Wilmington's Tony Berlin dropped from seventh to tenth on the scoring list after being near the top in the league most of the season.

Miami Trace's Dan Gifford and Washington C.H.'s John Denen moved in front of Berlin. Both Fayette County cagers are averaging 14.5-points an outing, but Gifford has scored one more point this season than Denen.

Three other Fayette County players top the league's second ten with Blue Lions Chuck Byrd and Doug Phillips sandwiching Panther sophomore Art Schlachter in 4th place.

One other Panther, Rod Garringer, is averaging more than 10 points giving Miami Trace the most players—four—on this week's list.

STEVE HARVEY — McClain's senior center comes down with a rebound in a game this season and he has been scoring more in the last couple of weeks. His average jumped from 15 points to 17 points in the last two weeks making him a likely repeater on the all-league, first team this season.

Coopman worries champ?

Muhammad Ali sees tough fight

SAN JUAN (AP) — "There ain't no guarantee I'm gonna win."

Muhammad Ali was talking about his heavyweight title defense against unranked Jean Pierre Coopman Friday night, a fight in which the champion is an overwhelming favorite.

"The fighters who are nuthin' give me hell," said Ali, relaxing in his suite, a suite he was forced out of for a brief time Wednesday when a kitchen fire sent smoke pouring through the El San Juan Hotel.

Ali then mentioned what he said were tough fights against Al "Blue" Lewis, Jurgen Blin, Chuck Wepner and Rudi Luebbers. Luebbers outpointed Coopman in 1974.

"Ken Norton was supposed to be a bum when he fought me the first time and he broke my jaw," said Ali, recalling his 12-round split-decision loss to Norton on March 31, 1973. Norton now is the No. 1 contender.

"Right away when the fight is made, Coopman is a bum," said Angelo Dundee, Ali's trainer. "That puts him (Ali) on guard. He's had trouble with bums. He's concerned about a let-down."

Ali goes into his fight with the 29-year-old Belgian off one of the greatest victories of his career — a 14-round triumph over Joe Frazier in a classic battle in Manila last Oct. 1.

Coopman also appears confident and has said he will win in 11 rounds.

But when the fight was announced last January, the challenger, who understands very little English and speaks only Flemish, was quoted as saying in Belgium that he knew he didn't have a chance but would do his best.

George Kanter, Coopman's U.S. representative, insists Coopman was misquoted.

Coopman, who will be giving away five inches in reach and about 25 pounds to Ali, apparently plans to try to pressure Ali, who has been nursing a cold for 11 days.

air out of the ball when we get a lead, but obviously our kids didn't learn a thing," said Rutgers Coach Tom Young, referring to his team's undisciplined play throughout most of the game.

"Our kids are used to running and they find it difficult to stop. If we don't learn soon, it'll cost us a ballgame."

It hasn't so far. The Scarlet Knights, with a 22-0 record, are only one of two undefeated teams in the country. The other one is top-ranked Indiana.

In other games, second-ranked Marquette defeated DePaul 64-53; third-ranked North Carolina nipped Miami of Ohio 77-75; seventh-ranked Maryland trimmed Georgetown 72-63;

12th-ranked North Carolina State nudged Duke 96-95 in overtime; No. 13 Cincinnati stopped Cincinnati Xavier 81-74 and No. 14 Missouri edged Kansas 61-60.

Sparked by Earl Tatum's 16 points, Marquette's Warriors built a 13-point lead and held off a DePaul charge for their 17th straight victory.

Phil Ford hit two foul shots with four seconds remaining to give North Carolina a narrow victory over determined Miami of Ohio. Miami, which led most of the game, had the last shot, but John Shoemaker missed a desperation 20-foot jumper as time ran out.

John Lucas scored 15 of his 23 points in the second half to pace Maryland over neighboring Georgetown; Craig Davis, held to three points in regulation time, made four free throws in the final minute of overtime as North Carolina State whipped Duke in a tingling Atlantic Coast Conference game.

Circleville, Plains favored

Panthers to host league mat tourney

By PHIL LEWIS
Record-Herald Sports Editor

Miami Trace will host this year's five-team South Central Ohio League wrestling tournament Saturday, and although the Panthers are not listed as a favorite to take the team title, they do have five or six wrestlers listed as individual contenders.

Circleville and Madison Plains are the pre-tournament favorites with 11 and nine seeded wrestlers respectively. Miami Trace, Wilmington and Hillsboro each have six seeded wrestlers, but the Panthers have beaten both the Hurricane and the Indian grapplers in dual meets this year. Trace has lost duals to both Madison Plains and Circleville.

Three Panther wrestlers are seeded first in their respective weight classes. The seeding is determined by the wrestlers' individual season record.

Only Circleville which has been the league wrestling power since the sport was instituted has more first seeded wrestlers.

Sophomore Scott Martin was awarded the first seed in the 138-pound weight class on the merits of his impressive 15-4-1 record this season.

Kurt Klontz at 145 pounds and Kirk Stuckey at 155 pounds are the other top seeded wrestlers. Klontz, a senior co-captain, has a 13-6 record this year while Stuckey sports a 6-5 mark.

These three Panther wrestlers along with senior Jay Crummy at 175 pounds and John Burr at 185 pounds gives coach Glenn Jacobsen a strong, upper weight-class lineup.

Crummy, who owns the Panthers best season record at 11-1, is seeded second in his weight class. Crummy's only loss this season was to Circleville's Bill Mogan in a close decision. The undefeated Mogan was awarded the weight-class' top seed.

Burr has only been wrestling one year, but his 9-7-1 season record was good enough for a third-seed.

Bruce Fennig with an 8-8 record grabbed a second seed in the 119-pound weight group. The Panther junior has been coming on strong in the last couple of meets.

Wrestlers to watch at the tournament are:

98—Brian McBrayer of Wilmington heads the list of contenders for the lightest, weight group title. Seeded behind McBrayer is Tim Teart of Madison Plains and Dan DeFrank of Circleville. The Panthers' Rick Ward who is winless on the year will meet DeFrank in the tournament's first-round match.

105—Randy Slutz will be the Trace entry, but he must face top-seed Mike Hamilton of Circleville in the first-round match. Slutz has an 11-8 record this season.

112—Freshman Mike Dunton will wrestle for Miami Trace and he must meet second-seed Keith Cohen of Madison Plains in the first round.

119—Second-seed Bruce Fennig will meet a third-seeded wrestler, Kirk Mobley of Wilmington, in the first round. Dave Teart of Madison Plains is rated first.

126—Butch Bolton of Wilmington and Tom Marshall of Circleville are the wrestlers to beat in this weight class. The Panther entry, Chris Garland, takes on Marshal in the first round.

132—Jim Stuckey with a 4-8-1 mark meets top-seed Wayne Holland of Madison Plains in the first match.

138—Scott Martin, top ranked over Jeff Lackey of Circleville, will wrestle Hillsboro's Tony Trout in the first round.

145—Top-ranked Kurt Klontz meets Joe Leahy of Circleville in the first round. Hillsboro's Steve Kelch and Madison Plains' Bruce Dillon are seeded behind the Panther co-captain.

155—Kirk Stuckey meets Chuck Barte of Plains in the first round. Stuckey is seeded first ahead of Dave DeFrank of Circleville and Ken Captain of Hillsboro.

167—First-year Panther wrestler Dave Hennessy meets top-seeded John Paine of Circleville in the first match. Delbert Turner of Wilmington and Don Richardson of Madison Plains are ranked behind Paine.

175—in a weight class that should boil down to second-seed Jay Crummy and Circleville's top-seeded Bill Mogan in the championship match, only two wrestlers are ranked. Crummy meets Mike Yates of Plains in the first round.

185—Jerry Strawser another Circleville wrestler is listed first ahead of Keith Gross of Hillsboro and Miami Trace's John Burr.

HVY—Chris Schlachter with a 2-13 season record will face second-seeded Tim Housh of Circleville in the first round. Big Steve Bear of Wilmington is ranked first and Dick Roush of Hillsboro is seeded third in the unlimited weight class.

Lions look for springboard victory over league champs

By MARK REA
Record-Herald Sports Writer

Beating the Circleville Tigers has not come easy for any team in the South Central Ohio League the past two seasons.

Last year, the Tigers compiled an 18-0 record while wrapping up the league title with over three weeks remaining on the schedule. This season, the Tigers sport a 16-1 record, their only loss coming at the hands of Madison Plains at the Eagles' gym.

The Washington C.H. Blue Lions, in second place well behind the newly-crowned champions of the SCOL with a 12-5 mark, hope they can defeat the Tigers in the last game at the season for a tremendous morale lifter.

Lion head coach Gary Shaffer stated that he believed the Lions could beat the Tigers but admitted that it will "take one, big team effort."

Washington is coming off a "big team effort" as they won big over a non-league opponent, Westerville North, on Tuesday by a score of 106-72. The Lions have won eight of their last ten games and seem to have some degree of momentum. Also, they seek revenge for 68-48 licking they took from Circleville earlier in the season.

If momentum is the key to this game, then the Lions have a great deal of it. But, the Tigers have a lot of the substance also. This team, dating back to when they played on the reserve team, has compiled a 52-1 record in the past three years. In addition they have won their last eight games in a row and are rated as the number six team in Class AA in the State of Ohio.

Circleville most certainly beats you with their type of sticky defense. Often times, their defense makes their offense. However, they can boast the SCOL's top scorer in Biff Bumgarner. Bumgarner, named all-everything in

Pistons top faltering Sun

By The Associated Press

The Phoenix Suns set in Detroit Wednesday night.

Leading by seven points after three periods, the Suns managed just eight points in the final quarter — lowest in the National Basketball Association this season — and suffered a 105-94 setback at the hands of the Pistons.

"We simply stopped the things we had done," said Coach John MacLeod.

What the Suns did was stop putting the ball in the basket. After making 35 of their first 58 shots for a blistering 60.3 per cent, the Suns suddenly cooled off and canned just three of 21 attempts in the final 12 minutes.

While Phoenix missed its first 11 shots in the fourth period and did not make a basket until the eight-minute mark, Detroit turned in a balanced attack, with Archie Clark and Eric Money leading the way with six points each in the winning surge.

Bob Lanier, playing his best game in several weeks after a variety of injuries, paced the Pistons with 23 points while five teammates also were in double figures. Paul Westphal had 22 points for the Suns.

Elsewhere, the Kansas City Kings trimmed the Golden State Warriors 103-91, the Seattle SuperSonics whipped the Boston Celtics 124-99 and the Houston Rockets drubbed the Los Angeles Lakers 114-98.

Athens High School honors cage coach

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — In twist, Athens High School has retired a jersey number in honor of its retiring basketball coach, Charlie McAfee.

McAfee has coached 22 of his 35 high school years at Athens so school officials decided to retire No. 22.

They gave the tall, congenial Iowan the home jersey in a frame and will place the road No. 22 in the school's trophy case.

McAfee, through last weekend, had piled up 571 victories and 194 losses in his career, the first 13 spent at Ames-Born in Athens County.

Around Ohio: Pat Gallagher coached Cleveland St. Ignatius last season, and now he is preparing Cleveland Collinwood to face his old school for the Senate championship Thursday night. Gallagher's assistant last season, Marty Chambers, coaches St. Ignatius.

Wellsville has won 55 of 56 regular season games, including 21 in a row.

Art Timberlake, a 5-foot-11 Canton Lincoln junior, has won that city's scoring title with 417 points, just two more than 6-7 Canton Timken senior Mike Miday. Kevin Best of Canton Lincoln was in third at 408 points.

Coach Don Dupper at Galion is planning a Galion Tournament of Champions wrestling tournament March 20. Dupper will select the top eight wrestlers in each weight division from the applicants.

Steve Swinehart, a Class AAA all-state Lancaster defensive back in football, has accepted a grant-in-aid from South Carolina to play quarterback.

Wheelerburg's streak is up to 30 regular season victories, 16 this winter. If the Pirates beat Portsmouth East and South Webster this weekend, they will earn the school's first undefeated basketball season ever.

Garrettsville Garfield has a chance to repeat history. Garfield handed Lordstown its only loss in its finale last winter. Lordstown carries another 19-0 record against Garfield Friday night.

Flashes show talent signs

By The Associated Press
 "One game doesn't make a season, but if we played this way every night we would be a good basketball team."
 That was Kent State coach Rex Hughes commenting Wednesday on his Golden Flashes' 105-75 rout of hapless Ohio University.
 "We haven't defended well at times, and we have to do this to get our running going like tonight," Hughes said.
 Hughes' reception for newsmen was much warmer than last Saturday after Kent State lost to Ball State. That day Hughes wouldn't allow the scribes into the dressing room.
 "My wife tells me I'm just a little kid," the coach said Wednesday. "Sorry, gentlemen, about the other day."
 The Golden Flashes were helped by junior guard Cortez Brown's 38 points, and the victory left Kent State in sole possession of fourth place in the Mid-

American Conference with a 6-5 record. They are 11-10 overall.
 Scott Love had 17 points and Mike Corde 14 for Ohio, but the Bobcats fell to 5-6 in the conference and 9-12 on the season.
 Miami (Ohio) led most of the way and almost surprised third-ranked North Carolina, but the Tar Heels' Phil Ford converted a pair of free throws with four seconds remaining to give his squad a 77-75 victory.
 Miami, which shares the Mid-American Conference lead, outscored North Carolina from the floor 32 field goals to 29 with a 55 per cent shooting average. But the Tar Heels hit 19 foul shots compared to Miami's 11.
 Mitch Kupchak had 22 points for North Carolina, which boosted its season mark to 21-2.
 Archie Aldridge led Miami, which fell to 14-7, with 19 points.
 Sophomore Mike Jones had 12

second-half points to help 13th-ranked Cincinnati past crosstown rival Xavier 81-74.
 The victory boosted Cincinnati to 19-3 overall.
 Freshman guard Nick Daniels had 23 points for Xavier, but the loss dropped his team to 11-10.
 Dick Steineman led Ashland over Walsh 97-92 with his 30 points. Ashland jumped to 17-4, while Walsh, its three-game winning skein snapped, fell to 11-10.
 Cleveland State evened its season series with Akron with a 62-50 non-conference triumph. Junior Center Dave Kyle led the winners with 22 points, while Lou Hardy and James Abrams had 14 points each for the Zips.
 Findlay, led by Rick Thralls' 24 points, snapped Earlham's 13-game winning streak with an 87-80 triumph. Ed Urbaniek had 26 for the losers, who had six men in double figures. Findlay rose to 15-7, while Earlham slipped to 19-5.
 Elsewhere, it was Manchester 91-81 over Bluffton, Hiram 76-75 over John Carroll, Ohio Dominican 95-87 over Wilberforce, Northern Kentucky 85-73 over Wright State and Case Western Reserve 82-73 over Thiel.

Sports briefs

Reds name Woodward replacement

CINCINNATI (AP) — Sportscaster Bill Brown was named by Avco Broadcasting to handle 35 television games for the World Champion Cincinnati Reds in 1976.
 Brown, 28, a sports staffer at WLW-T in Cincinnati, replaces former Reds second baseman Woody Woodward. Ken Coleman will continue as part of the broadcast team.

MOC cage tourney slated this weekend

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — League champion Tiffin entertains Urbana and Cedarville plays at Rio Grande in opening games Friday night of the Mid-Ohio Conference college basketball tournament.
 Malone, which actually posted the best conference record of 10-2, is on probation and ineligible in the Mid-Ohio this season.

Bye Knight wins feature at Lebanon

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Bye Knight caught Brian's Stottie Jeff at the wire in a photo finish to win the featured pace mile by a nose at Lebanon Wednesday night.
 The winner paid $8, $3.60 and $2.60. The place horse paid $2.80 and $2.20 and the show horse, Shootout Up, $2.80.
 Winning time was 2:10.3-5.
 The 4-6 daily double of Bengals Eddie and Curious Craig returned $10.80 and the crowd of 1,210 bet $92,653.

Brad Longberry named top OAC player

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ohio Northern sophomore Brad Longberry is the choice for Ohio Conference Player of the Week in a poll of the league's basketball coaches.
 The 6-foot-5 center led the Polar Bears to a 93-78 victory over Kenyon with 34 points and 12 rebounds, then led Northern to a 72-66 victory over Muskingum with 19 points and six rebounds. The victories clinched at tie for the OAC Northern Division title for Northern.

Port Huron flags swamp Komets, 6-1

By The Associated Press
 Center Len Fontaine scored five goals as the Port Huron Flags breezed to a 6-1 International Hockey League victory Wednesday night over the Ft. Wayne Komets.
 Fontaine's five-goal spurge edged him ahead of Flint's Kirk Bowman as the IHL's scoring leader, an honor Bowman had held to this point in the season.

Cincy Reds good losers in superteam

CINCINNATI (AP)—If the recent Superteam competition in Honolulu, Hawaii proved anything, it was that losing can be bearable.
 The Cincinnati Reds, champions of the world of baseball, lost in the finals of the promotion filmed for television, but still came home with $11,300 for each of the 10 Reds who participated.
 In addition to the money, the players from the Reds, Pittsburgh Steelers, Boston Red Sox and Dallas Cowboys received everything free—food, lodging and transportation.
 "Every vacation ought to be like that," said Pete Rose, who helped put the Reds into contention with a sterling performance in the tandem bicycle relay.
 The Reds and Steelers were even with the Steelers going into the final event, the tug-of-war. The tug-of-war rules say that each team can have 1,500 pounds on its side of the rope.
 A year ago, the Steelers lost the event because they went with their biggest men while the secret is to have more people than muscle.
 This time, the National Football League champions used seven men and it added up to the 1,500 man limit. The Reds also used seven men, but the combined weight was just 1,430 pounds.
 "If you blinked you missed it," said Rose.

Speaking of Your Health...

Granting Permission to Smoke

We suspect that our 15-year-old daughter has been smoking for more than six months. At a party for her friends in our house she openly smoked in front of us. Now she wants permission to smoke. She insists that she can stop any time she wants to. She reads your column. We would appreciate your comments.

Mr. & Mrs. R. R., Pa.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. R.: Unfortunately this is a universal problem. Many parents fall into a trap when they give their children "permission" to smoke.

Frequently they say, "If you're going to smoke behind our backs we'd rather you did so openly." In essence, however, this means that parents are sanctioning smoking.

Far too often this attitude is an excuse for the inability of parents to exercise their own mature judgment. By firmly stating, "You do not have our permission to smoke in our presence or behind our backs," a rule is firmly set down.

It is also of psychological importance to understand that children, adolescents and even young adults thrive on the secure knowledge that their parents "care" enough to set down rules and limitations.

There is no denying that tobacco is a major health hazard. It is difficult for young people who are in perfect health to understand that years of tobacco smoking can reduce their longevity by five or 10 years.

Youth cannot project that far in advance. They have a misconception that smoking will make them more acceptable with their peers. Actually, the reverse is true. Many young people who now are confirmed smokers admit to tremendous admiration for those who have successfully avoided the trap of smoking.

We have all heard the argument of young adolescents who insist that they can stop smoking at any time. If your daughter will just look around and honestly evaluate the situation she will see how quickly the smoker who can "easily stop" has graduated into the proverbial "pack a day."

Public health officials, doctors and educators are now concentrating on the 7, 8 and 9 year old child. Their sensitive minds can be impressed with the dangers of tobacco. It is amazing how often these children, as they grow into adolescents, are freed from the temptation of tobacco.

It is also astonishing to find that they make a tremendous impact on their smoking parents and frequently are the reasons why adults, too, give up the dangerous practice of smoking.

DR. COLEMAN welcomes letters from readers, and, while he cannot undertake to answer each one, he will use questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Coleman in care of this newspaper.

Opening lead - five of spades.

I was playing in a tournament some years ago in Juan les Pins, France, when this deal arose.

My partner was Dorothy Hayden, of New York, and our opponents were two Frenchmen we had never seen before. West doubled two diamonds, which was certainly reasonable, and led a spade.

Mrs. Hayden won the queen with the ace and returned a low heart. Worried that the heart might be a singleton, West rose with the ace, and East - who wanted no other suit led - played the jack. West returned a heart, won by South with the ten.

Fully aware that the trumps were stacked against her, Mrs. Hayden played a low diamond from her hand. West took the ten but was endplayed! He had to give away a trick, whatever he returned.

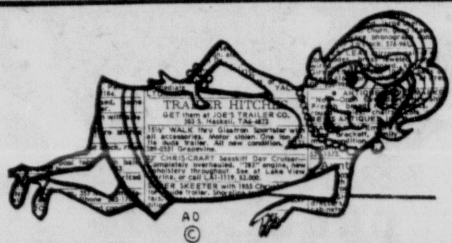

Hoping to find East with the king, West led the A-10 of clubs. Mrs. Hayden won with the king and returned the five of diamonds, putting West under pressure again.

If he took the jack and exited with a club, declarer would ruff, play the ace and another trump, and thus force West to play a heart to the K-Q.

If he ducked the diamond, hoping East could win the trick, the outcome would be the same. West was thoroughly licked and he knew it. Actually he ducked, and Mrs. Hayden made two diamonds doubled.

Later that day, Mrs. Rixi Marcus, England's top woman player, came to me and said West had asked her: "Who is that tall, attractive English-woman who is such a good player?"

Mrs. Marcus, recognizing from the description that it was Mrs. Hayden, answered: "If she's attractive and English, she's not a good player; if she's English and a good player, she's not attractive; and if she's attractive and a good player, she's not English!"

Deer killed in auto mishap near village

A Sabina man struck and killed a deer Wednesday evening near Bloomingburg, Fayette County Sheriff's deputies reported. Washington C. H. police investigated three mishaps, one in which a Washington C. H. woman was slightly injured when the car she was driving struck a utility pole.

A car driven by Kenneth D. Debold, 27, of Sabina, struck and killed at 6:55 p.m. a doe which had run onto the road, just south of Bloomingburg on Ohio 238. The deer was killed upon impact, and damage to the car was minor.

Rosemary Leath, 32, of 226 Fairview Ave., suffered a minor injury when the car she was driving struck a utility pole at 3:55 p.m. Wednesday. She had attempted to swerve out of the way of an unidentified car that was pulling from the Clark service station and into her path of direction on W. Court Street. The front of her car sustained heavy damage, and Washington C. H. police are attempting to locate the driver of the unidentified vehicle.

A car driven by Donald E. Elliot, 47, of 919 N. North St., which was leaving the Fayette County Memorial Hospital parking lot, was struck by a car driven by Mary C. West, 35, of 222 W. Market St., at 3:56 p.m. Wednesday. She was leaving her parking space and apparently did not see the oncoming vehicle. Damage was minor.

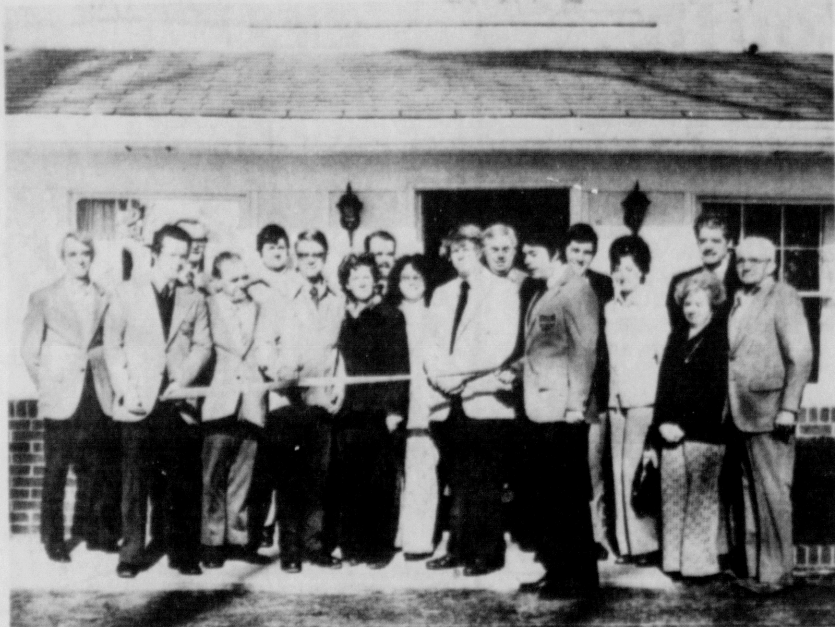

A car driven by George R. Hall, 72, of 223 E. Circle Ave., backed from a parking space into the path of a car driven by Paulette L. Trinidad, 30, of South Vienna, near the intersection of Hinde Street and W. Market Street. Damage was minor in the 11:40 a.m. accident.

Traffic Court

A single traffic offense was heard by Washington C.H. Municipal Court Judge Robert L. Simpson Wednesday morning.

Earl W. Hunt, 29, of New Holland, was found guilty of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol. He was fined $200, sentenced to three days in jail, and had his license suspended for 30 days.

Samuel Brady, a frontier scout who ranked with Simon Kenton and Daniel Boone in the Ohio region, escaped from the Indians in May of 1780 by leaping a Cuyahoga River gorge on the present site of Kent. The spot is still called Brady's Leap and is a tourist attraction.

Animal clinic opened

At a ribbon-cutting ceremony held Thursday morning, the Ambassadors Club of the Washington C.H. Area Chamber of Commerce officially opened a new animal clinic owned and operated by Washington C.H. veterinarians Dr. D.R. Junk and his son, Dr. Gary D. Junk.

The veterinarians conducted a tour through the clinic which, after expansion of existing facilities, now includes three examining rooms, a laboratory-pharmacy, kennel room, and a new surgery area. A garage situated nearby will be used for large animal surgery.

A new heating and air-conditioning system has been installed as well as the construction of a combination waiting room-business office.

The animal clinic and veterinary offices are located at 1973 CCC Highway-E.

Insurance suit filed in factory blaze

HARTFORD (AP) — The parent company of a Shelton factory that was gutted by arson last March has broadened its quest of insurance payments with a $67.6 million lawsuit against an insurance company and its broker.

The suit is the second one to be filed this week in connection with the firebombing and comes nearly a month after the president of the parent company was acquitted of arson-related charges in the case.

The Superior Court suit was served Wednesday with state officials that license Protection Mutual Insurance Co. of Park Ridge, Ill., and the broker, Wilson & Allen, Inc., of New York City to do business in Connecticut.

Grand Sheet, parent company of Sponge Rubber Products Co. of Shelton, also filed a $6.6 million suit Tuesday in U.S. District Court against a syndicate of 36 insurance companies it claims also insured the Shelton plant.

In the state court suit, Grand Sheet claims losses involving buildings, property, contents and business interruption in excess of the amount claimed in the earlier suit.

It also seeks unspecified punitive damages, accusing Protection Mutual of bad faith dealings in an attempt to link the arson with company officials and Wilson & Allen of falsely representing the extent of insurance coverage on the Shelton company.

Protection Mutual has rejected Grand Sheet's insurance claims ever since its president, Ohio millionaire Charles D. Moeller, was indicted with nine other men on charges of conspiring to blow up the 2½-block-long factory. He is president of Grand Sheet and its parent firm, Ohio Decorative Products Corp.

Housing starts decline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of new housing units started in January fell for the third consecutive month and has reached the lowest level in six months, the government says.

The Commerce Department said Wednesday the number of houses and apartments started during January fell by an annual rate of 70,000 units, or by 5.4 per cent, to an annual rate of 1.221 million.

The drop indicated a weakening of the anemic recovery so far in the housing industry. However, the news was muted by word that builders increased by 10.7 per cent in January the number of housing units authorized by building permits.

The number of permits issued is an indicator of future activity in the industry, and January's authorized number of units hit an annual rate of 1.138 million. That was the highest number authorized for any month since the 1.159 in May 1974 and represents an advance of 65 per cent over January of last year.

Statewide registration pushed

Voter measure eyed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio would become the 48th state to have statewide registration of voters under a bill approved by the House and now pending in the Senate.

Rep. Ike Thompson, D-13 Cleveland, won 52-40 approval of his measure Wednesday, but only after a spirited floor fight that had minority Republicans virtually aligned against it.

Under his measure, the 22 counties which have no registration requirement and four with partial registration required would have to sign up voters by the next three elections.

The bill also contains a provision that would have voters' registrations canceled after four years without voting, instead of the present two years, and another to permit registration by post card.

Thompson disputed GOP claims that post card registration would open the door to cheating. He said it would prohibit a present questionable practice of having election boards in nonregistration counties decide on their own who is eligible to vote.

The Cleveland lawmaker said Ohio, along with North Dakota and Wisconsin, are the only states which have resisted attempts to register voters statewide. "Ohio's election system must be like Caesar's wife. It must not only be virtuous, but must also show virtue," he said.

In other action, the House decided 50-42 to send back for more committee study a Watergate-inspired bill to outlaw election campaign "dirty tricks" in Ohio.

Rep. Richard H. Finan, R-19 Cincinnati, asked that the bill be recommittees after lengthy debate over a complicated amendment by Rep. C. William O'Neill, R-28 Columbus, the lawyer son of Ohio's Supreme Court chief justice. He contended the bill, in its present form, would violate constitutional intent with regard to free speech.

Among other things, the bill's chief sponsor, Rep. Pete Crossland, D-42 Akron, wants to outlaw and set penalties for such things as campaign sabotage, blackmail, making false statements and falsely identifying the source of statements.

Crossland conceded that his legislation was inspired, at least in part, by the book "All The President's Men", an account of the Watergate scandal by two Washington Post reporters.

The Senate, following the lead of the House, added its disapproval (22-9) to the welfare department's plan for the use of federal (Title 20) social services funds. The plan now will have to be changed and resubmitted to the lawmakers.

Without dissent, the Senate sent the House a bill providing free fishing, hunting, and trapping rights to permanently and totally disabled veterans. Sponsors said about 4,000 veterans would qualify.

Secrecy penalties under fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — The criminal penalties in the tough new law President Ford wants to protect intelligence secrets would apply not only to government employees but to thousands of Americans whose jobs may give them access to classified information.

And while the administration bill, delivered to Congress on Wednesday, exempts recipients of leaked classified information from prosecution for conspiracy, it leaves them open to other legal sanctions, according to analysts who have studied the measure.

For example, there is nothing in the bill to prevent a prosecutor who is trying to track down the source of a leak from hauling a reporter before a grand jury and demanding to know where he got information.

Lawyers on and off Capitol Hill agreed that a reporter who receives leaked classified information covered by the Ford bill becomes the witness to a crime. And past court rulings appear to give the reporter no choice in such a case but to divulge the identity of his source.

The Ford proposal follows very closely some of the most controversial provisions of a Senate bill, referred to as S1, which is a voluminous consolidation of the federal criminal code.

The controversies around S1 have stalled it in committee, which might be a clue about the congressional reception to Ford's proposal.

The S1 bill has been criticized as an "Official Secrets Act" because it would prohibit government employees from disclosing classified information to anyone.

The S1 bill exempts recipients, such as reporters, from prosecution under that section, but it also defines a new crime for the publication or other unauthorized communication of the refrigerator and the freezer in the other, a couple of things I don't like to look at," said Feth. "They didn't fit."

A second plan to convert the 7-foot-6 long, 8-foot-6 high cherry paneled confessional into a bar didn't work for the same reason.

A third plan to install it in the bathroom did not work out because it was too big.

This week he decided to put it up for sale again.

"It's a sin," he said.

Confessional big problem

CINCINNATI (AP) — Russell J. Feth, 32, of Cincinnati, said he had no guilt feelings motivating him last August when he bought a confessional at the Little Sisters of the Poor Home auction.

The sisters, who moved to a new building, sold out the furnishings from the old building operated by the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Cincinnati.

Feth had plenty of uses in mind, but none worked out.

"My original idea was to put the telephone in one compartment and the Residents on the far east end of Rawlings Street are having their water drainage studied by a wealth of sewer experts, but the prospect of relief is less than glowing.

Complaints of heavy flooding in the area Wednesday prompted investigation by Washington C.H. City Council members Billie Wilson and Joseph O'Brien, city inspector Glenn Tatman, and engineer Donald Conley. Thursday the problem was further discussed by Tatman and Charles F. Bird of C.F. Bird and R.J. Bull, Inc. Worthington, the city's consulting engineering firm.

Studying the topography maps of the area, all of the individuals concluded that while sewer problems may be a contributing factor, the low elevation of the block east of Blackstone Street is the major difficulty. The entire block is situated below the elevation of surrounding areas which forces water to collect in the area.

The ground slopes downward from farm lands to the north of Rawlings and then gradually rises as it moves toward Blackstone and Wilson streets. Thus, water flows into the area from both sides. In addition, the level of the street itself is higher than the level of the homeowners' backyards.

The city maps show two storm sewers along this section of Rawlings Street. An eight-inch tile runs down the center of the street, and a 10-inch tile follows the north side. Both empty into a 42-inch intercepting sewer on Lewis Street.

Lingering waters in the street pavement led Bird to believe that either the slope of the tiles is insufficient or the lines are partially blocked. He added that the latter problem is much more likely. Bird noted that his firm has not researched this area extensively because it has not yet been authorized by City Council to begin the detailed planning stage.

If the existing tiles are free from blockage, they should more than adequately handle the storm water in the area, Bird said. However, he explained that this will not eliminate the flooding problem. The new sewer installation project will not relieve the entire situation either, he stressed.

When the sewers in that area have been cleaned and the sanitary sewer installed, the existing storm drains will drain the pavement quickly, but backyards will continue to flood.

While new streets are cut well below the ground level of residences (approximately two feet in most cases), the backyards in this block of Rawlings Street are nearly 12 inches lower than the roadway. Sewer drains located along the roadway will not be able to drain the yards, Bird explained. Until the homeowners either fill their yards to a point where they are higher than the street or install drains in their backyards, their properties will continue to flood during heavy rains.

Wilson was one of the city officials to receive complaints from homeowners Wednesday. He visited the area and opened several manholes to check the drainage. He noted that the sewer lines were filled to capacity, but appeared to

Covert operations untouched by Ford

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House says President Ford's intelligence overhaul imposes few new restraints on covert U.S. operations abroad other than prohibiting assassinations.

"There are no restraints on the conduct of covert operations" other than congressional power to investigate such operations, Ford aide John O. Marsh said at a Wednesday briefing.

Key legislators disagree whether Congress will go along or try to outlaw additional types of covert operations beyond assassinations.

While leaving most covert activity alone, Ford issued orders Wednesday barring break-ins, bugging and other domestic spying by intelligence agencies except in certain circumstances. But those exceptions would appear to give official sanction to some of the CIA's questionable past domestic activities against U.S. citizens.

He also asked Congress for criminal sanctions for leaking secrets.

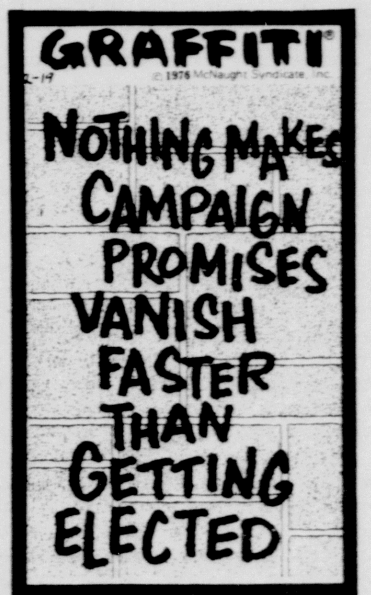

But Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., a ranking member of the Senate intelligence committee, predicted Congress will go "much beyond" outlawing assassinations and will ban such covert CIA political activity as that conducted in Chile and Italy.

"I think we certainly would follow the President in restricting assassination attempts," Mondale said. "But I also suspect we will restrict the President on involvement in domestic elections (in foreign countries) and there may be other ways we will restrict him."

Otis G. Pike, D-N.Y., who was chairman of the now defunct House intelligence committee, noted his panel considered but decided not to recommend prohibiting U.S. involvement in secret wars and politics abroad — in the end recommending only that assassinations and paramilitary operations such as that conducted in Laos be banned.

"I think that probably represents what Congress' position would be," Pike said.

Gasoline lead California target

LOS ANGELES (AP) — California antismog officials are on the verge of attempting what no other state has done and the federal government has been kept from doing — requiring the virtual elimination of lead in gasoline.

Tiny amounts of the heavy metal are building up in the bodies of people living near freeways, the state Air Resources Board has concluded. Years of such exposure may be dangerous, say health officials, and after a public hearing today the ARB is likely to approve a phase-down program that could ban most lead additives by 1980.

But the state must reckon with the lead additive industry, which so far has used the courts to beat back federal efforts to reduce lead and render previous state antilead regulations ineffective. The industry, which admits deleading of gasoline would "wound us some," declares there is insufficient evidence to convict airborne lead of any harm to health.

In respect to health hazards, California has taken a stronger position than the federal Environmental Protection Agency, which has not set any restrictions on lead in the air. California's ARB recently voted to retain a strict standard.

"We do not have enough medical information to talk about what is a safe air standard," said Ronald Campbell of EPA's Office of Air Quality Standards.

Even the most adamant state officials don't blame lead additives for causing clinical lead poisoning — which can produce liver and kidney damage, vomiting, seizures, abdominal pain, brain damage and death. Large overdoses of lead usually come into the body from eating contaminated food or, as happens frequently with ghetto children, eating leaded paint from aged housing.

But Dr. John R. Goldsmith of the California Department of Health said that even with blood-lead amounts considerably below the poisoning level, some researchers have found disturbances in the way nerve impulses are relayed.

"It's a long term problem," he said. "What worries me is the risk to children, who may take up lead more readily than adults."

Therefore, he said, even the relatively minor amount of lead breathed in from the air should be reduced.

Taking the lead out means gasoline has to be more highly refined to achieve the same octane rating — with its anti-knock properties — as leaded gasoline.

According to Jack Fuller, a spokesman for the Ethyl Corp., manufacturers of lead additives, this will "cost like the devil."

"It takes four to six per cent more crude oil and extra energy to make unleaded gasoline, and that's counter to energy conservation," he said.

Flooding

be flowing very slowly. Not being an expert himself, Wilson contacted Tatman and requested that Conley investigate. Both checked the situation Wednesday in the company of O'Brien.

Conley noted that even though the two tiles combined (the existing eight and 10-inch tiles) appear to have adequate volume to carry the water, each is so small that it is easily blocked by debris. The fact that Rawlings Street does not have curbs adds to the problem of debris in the lines, he added.

Conley and Bird agreed with Wilson that some blockage apparently exists. The ideal solution to stop the flooding, Conley said, is to lower the level of the street by at least a foot, install curbs and replace the two smaller storm tiles with one larger tile which is less apt to become blocked. It would be an extensive, and expensive, operation, he added.

Bird agreed that a larger tile for storm drainage would be desirable, but said he was not sure the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) would approve this type of project for federal funding. At present, approval has only been granted for installation of sanitary sewer lines.

Bird said that a detailed study of the drainage problem and discussions with the EPA would be necessary before any final plan of action was determined.

However, he added unless the level of the street is lowered, or the homeowners take steps to improve the drainage of their own properties, the backyard flooding will continue regardless of the improvement of the area's sewer drainage.

Remap conference set in Cleveland

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A federal judge in Cleveland has scheduled a conference for Friday with counsel for Statehouse Democrats seeking to block or delay GOP Gov. James A. Rhodes' bid to draw new election districts for Ohio's legislature.

Separate motions were filed in the court of Judge Frank J. Battisti on Wednesday on behalf of Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson, a Democratic member of the apportionment board, and Rep. Michael P. Del Bane, D-56 Hubbard, who already has filed to run for re-election in November in his Youngstown area district.

Ferguson's motion, filed by Democratic Atty. Gen. William J. Brown, asks the judge to clarify whether the five-member board—dominated 3-2 by Republicans with Rhodes as chairman—can legally meet Feb. 23 as requested by Rhodes.

The auditor said he thinks the board by law can meet only every 10 years following each federal census, unless an existing apportionment plan were to be held invalid by a court. The present plan, drafted by Democrats when they controlled the board in 1971, has been upheld by Judge Battisti. His ruling was left undisturbed after appeals extended all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Del Bane's motion, by his own attorney, Eugene Green, asks Battisti to determine if Rhodes is acting in violation of an injunction the judge issued in 1973 prohibiting further litigation over the issue in any state or federal court.

It was not known if Friday's conference will be in open court.

Rhodes said when he announced the board's Feb. 23 meeting that he wants to ask Battisti to vacate or modify his 1973 injunction. The 66-year-old governor claims the apportionment plan, which led to Democratic takeover of the House 59-40 and the Senate 21-12, violates Ohio's Constitution, and that the judge should permit his challenge to be heard in state courts.

Battisti is a Democrat. Early on in the legal struggle that started after Democrats adopted their 1971 plan, he fined Rhodes' chief aide at the time, John M. McElroy, for violating a similar court decree. The fine of $5,000 later was reduced to $500. McElroy now is Rhodes' adviser for federal revenue sharing. He said he is not involved in the governor's current apportionment effort.

Besides Rhodes and Ferguson, the other members of the apportionment board are GOP Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, Sen. Anthony O. Calabrese, D-22 Cleveland, and Rep. Frederick N. Young, R-38 Dayton. Young was named by legislative Republicans recently to replace Robert A. Manning, an Akron Republican who served as a minority board member in 1971 when it drew the present plan.

Jobs bill veto likely to stand

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders of the House attempt to override President Ford's veto of a $6.1-billion jobs bill say congressional support for the bill may be declining as the unemployment rate goes lower.

The House is scheduled to take up the veto today and, if the vote there is to override, the Senate would take up the bill within hours.

Democrats calculated they need about 25 Republican votes in the House to provide the two-thirds majority to override. They looked for them among the 62 Republicans who voted for the bill when the House originally passed it, 321 to 80 — more than the two-thirds needed to override the veto.

Original passage in the Senate was by voice vote and the override contest was considered extremely close there.

Local government officials have backed the bill, and a delegation of Democratic mayors met with leaders of both chambers Wednesday. Capitol sources said the White House was working equally hard to hold Republicans in support of the veto.

Democratic sponsors of the measure contend the bill would yield more than 600,000 jobs, many of them in the construction industry where unemployment is much higher than the national average. Ford says the bill would create 250,000 jobs spread out over years.

Backers of the bill acknowledged that two developments have led some members to support the veto. One was a drop in the unemployment rate from 8.3 per cent in December to 7.8 per cent in January. The other was the introduction of a bill by Rep. Garry Brown, R-Mich., resembling that part of the vetoed measure that grants funds to state and local governments threatened with the need to lay off employees or raise taxes. Ford has endorsed it.

But the AFL-CIO challenged the new unemployment figures on Wednesday, accusing the Bureau of Labor Statistics of using "seasonal adjustment gimmickry" to make it appear there was a drop in joblessness when there actually was no substantial decline.

Highway funding picture brighter

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State transportation officials say the agency's financial health has improved considerably since budget hearings last year when they gave a gloomy prognosis to legislators.

The reassessment came before a joint House-Senate Finance Committee which has reopened hearings on the current 1975-77 budget.

"We project no loss of federal funds," Deputy Transportation Director Benjamin Brace told the panel. "We're optimistic for survival in 1976 and 1977."

Transportation Director Richard Jackson, who was unable to attend the Wednesday session, was far from optimistic at budget hearings last spring. He testified that the department was "basically broke" insofar as providing matching funds to attract federal grants.

Gov. James A. Rhodes stressed the urgency of capturing federal highway money as a major selling point for his defeated $1.75 billion transportation bond issue.

Brace said nearly $18 million in highway tax revenue, which was found to be in excess of the amount needed in 1975 for debt service, can now be used to attract federal dollars. In addition, Brace said the department had upped its projection of income from the state gasoline tax by $6.7 million over the next four months.

Also contributing to the brighter transportation picture was a Feb. 3 memo from the Federal Highway Administration reporting that some $2 million in grants, due to lapse on July 1, will remain available in the coming fiscal year.

And Brace said another $11 million to $18 million, originally due to expire July 1, 1977, will be left on the table during the second year of the biennium.

But the transportation spokesman warned that the current budget did "not face the long-range funding problems" of the department.

"All we've got is a reprieve for this fiscal year and 1977," he cautioned. "We've just shoved it ahead."

Earlier, George Denton, director of rehabilitation and correction, said his department's programs would be cut sharply unless an additional $9.5 million was provided.

Denton said the inmate population in Ohio prisons had risen by 3,940 to 11,660 in the past two years. About 2,000 more prisoners will join the rolls by mid-1977, he said.

Heavy campaign spending seen

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Candidates in New Hampshire's leadoff presidential primary are spending close to $1 million to woo voters with radio, television and newspaper commercials.

Most of the money is being spent outside the state, going largely to Boston television stations that beam into the lucrative southern New Hampshire market. A survey of the major candidates in Tuesday's primary shows just $6,000 going to New Hampshire's only commercial station, WMUR-TV in Manchester.

In Boston, a 30-second commercial can cost as little as $25 or as much as $1,500, depending on the time of day it is aired. The figures can be misleading, however, because the Boston TV spots are used to promote the candidates not only in New Hampshire's primary but Massachusetts' March 2 primary election as well.

On the Republican side, former California Gov. Ronald Reagan, who is challenging President Ford for the GOP nomination, declined to provide dollar amounts being spent on advertising.

The campaign of Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., who is not on the ballot in New Hampshire but who has a slate of delegates in the primary, also did not provide dollar figures.

Among the other candidates, Democrat Jimmy Carter appeared to have the largest media bill, $156,000, while Ford had the smallest, $40,000. Birch Bayh's media budget is $140,000, Morris Udall's $146,000 and Fred Harris' $100,000, campaign officials said. Sargent Shriver's media budget is the smallest among the Democrats, $50,000 for Boston TV and $20,000 for New Hampshire media, aides said.

Only Alabama Gov. George Wallace, who is not on the New Hampshire ballot, Ford and Bayh, are advertising on New Hampshire's WMUR-TV.

In all of the television ads, the politicians cite their records or talk about the need for new leadership.

Ford's ads stress his performance

Stocks post good gains

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market pushed ahead today, showing continued enthusiasm over a dividend increase by American Telephone & Telegraph.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up more than 4 points in the early going, and gainers took a broad lead over losers among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

AT&T announced Wednesday it was raising its quarterly dividend from 85 to 95 cents a share.

The company has more stockholders than any other in the nation. Analysts noted that favorable news involving such a major issue often gives the general market a psychological lift.

AT&T shares, which gained 3/4 to 56 1/2 Wednesday, didn't trade in the early moments today.

Reynolds Metals climbed a point to 37 1/4. The company announced plans to resume aluminum production on three lines, citing increased demand.

On Wednesday the Dow Jones industrial average climbed 9.52 to 960.09, gaining back part of its 21.33-point loss over the previous three sessions.

Zoo deer said slain

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two hunting arrows and the "internal remains" of a deer were found Tuesday outside the fence at the Columbus Zoo's water treatment plant, leading officials to conclude poachers were responsible for the disappearance of a deer named Bambo.

Zoo director Benjamin Blackson said the three-year-old doe was missing when staff members went to feed her. She apparently had been killed and dressed the night before.

The 110-pound whitetail had been in the children's zoo until last fall when she was moved inside the nine-foot chain link fence surrounding the plant just north of the zoo.

Profs claim taconite tests faulty

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Two professors say they do not agree with the theory that results of tests on animals can be interpreted to mean taconite tailings discharged by Reserve Mining Co. are not a threat to human health along Lake Superior's North Shore.

They commented on the eve of another hearing in the lengthy environmental case. U.S. District Judge Edward J. Devitt was scheduled to hear arguments on the filtration cost issue Wednesday.

Reserve attorneys argue that the Silver Bay, Minn., firm should not be liable for cost of emergency filtration of municipal water at Duluth and other North Shore communities. The U.S. Corps of Engineers, which has been filtering the water, estimates it could cost up to $6 million. The corps has asked Devitt to order Reserve to take over the filtration costs.

The State of Minnesota contends that asbestos fibers found in the municipal water systems along the North Shore come from finely ground waste rock discharged by Reserve into Lake Superior. The state contends the fibers are a serious potential health hazard.

PEEBLES, Ohio (AP) — Howard Clark, 60, Peebles, Ohio, who put up with 31 years of ragging because he claimed to be Adams County's most decorated war hero, saw it come to an end last week.

Without explanation, Clark received 12 medals through the mail from the U.S. Army without explanation for tardiness.

"Ain't it something," said Clark, who remains on a total disability pension for wounds suffered in World War II.

Man gets war medals years late

"I just came home one day and there were the 12 medals, all boxed up on the porch."

They include a Purple Heart, a Bronze Star, three Battle Stars and a Continuous Service medal.

Clark was discharged from the Army in late 1945. However, he remained in Veterans Hospitals for many months for three wounds suffered in heavy house-to-house fighting in a small European town.

He had assumed command as a staff sergeant when all the officers in his unit had been killed, he said.

"People used to think I was medal crazy," he said.

"I told them I was promised the medals, and they used to say that I didn't really have the stuff coming to me."

"I always said that if the government didn't care enough about sending the medals, I didn't care enough about getting them."

Ohio Perspective

Remap worries state solons

By ROBERT E. MILLER

Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —

Democrats, ready to fight to protect their legislative majorities, admit privately they are worried and puzzled about Gov. James A. Rhodes' announced effort to reshape their election districts.

The 66-year-old governor is convening the apportionment board next Monday for what he said is that purpose, although some preliminary legal work will have to be done.

House Speaker Vernal G. Riffe Jr., D-89 New Boston, said he will withhold public statements but thinks the governor may be on shaky legal ground.

Rhodes, who obtained a court decision from Ohio's Republican-dominated Supreme Court in order to run for a third term in 1974, now faces a hurdle with a federal court and a judge who is a Democrat.

Judge Frank J. Battisti of the federal court system's northern Ohio district (Cleveland) issued an injunction in 1973 that banned GOP challengers of existing legislative districts. Those districts were shaped by Democrats in 1971.

He said at the time that Ohio complied with U.S. requirements for districts virtually equal in population. Rhodes said he can show that the present districts run afoul of the Ohio Constitution if Battisti will give him the opportunity. He claims the districts have many defects, among them the use of precincts—not used by census takers—in the creation of 76 House districts.

Rhodes confirmed that Monday's agenda will include discussion of a request to ask Battisti to vacate or modify his injunction. Most legal spokesmen agree the governor can't get his case into friendly state courts unless the judge honors the request.

Also, some Democrats pointed out that the only thing that has changed since Battisti ruled initially is that Rhodes has returned as governor, which has nothing to do with apportionment. They also noted that the judge currently is busy with a desegregation plan for Cleveland schools.

Cancer treatment said not absolute

MILAN, Italy (AP) — The leader of an Italian team that has discovered a combination drug treatment hailed as a breakthrough in treatment of breast cancer warns it is not an "absolute remedy" and that more testing will be needed.

"Let's hope we can save thousands of lives," Dr. Gianni Bonadonna said in an interview Wednesday night. "Hopes are justified. But there is no certainty. More tests and studies over the next three years will be needed."

Bonadonna and a team of associates at the National Cancer Institute of Italy developed a treatment combining three drugs which resulted in a sharp reduction in the recurrence of the disease among women who had been operated on for advanced breast cancer. The treatments and the results were reported this week in the New England Journal of Medicine and termed of "monumental importance."

The three drugs are cyclophosphamide, methotrexate and fluorouracil, or CMF.

"The drugs we used for our study are on the market and available to patients for treatment in community hospitals," Bonadonna said. "But patient and public opinion must not think we have developed the absolute remedy."

"The main point is that physicians should be aware of the new possibility and that patients learn that something is being done for them," the 41-year-old doctor said.

His team reported that in a 27-month experiment with 386 women who had had radical mastectomies — removal of the breast, lymph nodes and nearby muscles, cancer recurred in 5 per cent of the 207 women who had the combined drug treatment for a year and in 24 per cent of the 179 who did not get the drugs.

Bonadonna said the next step in his study is to treat patients for six months to determine the effectiveness of the combined drugs when administered for a shorter period of time.

Bonadonna said his team's work was based on studies by two doctors at the U.S. National Cancer Institute at Bethesda, Md., Paul P. Carbone and B.

Fisher, "who already were testing treatment on operated women with a single drug." The Italian team also received financial support from the American cancer institute.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former President Richard M. Nixon will arrive in Communist China exactly four years after the historic visit that restored relations between China and the United States.

Nixon leaves Friday at 9 a.m. (PST). He and his wife and aides will board a Chinese jet airliner at a little-used hangar at Los Angeles International Airport. The Nixon party will fly to Anchorage, Alaska, and then to Peking by way of Tokyo, arriving in Peking on Saturday.

Though he is making the trip as a private citizen, Nixon is expected to be a guest of honor and reportedly will be greeted by Communist party Chairman Mao Tse-tung.

Mao welcomed Nixon's daughter Julie Eisenhower and her husband, David, during their 12-day visit to China last month.

Two Middle School pupils hurt

Three assault incidents probed

Three separate assault incidents involving juveniles, two of which occurred at the Washington C.H. Middle School, were reported to Washington C.H. police officers Wednesday. Sheriff's deputies reported a shoplifting offense.

A 17-year-old Washington C.H. youth stopped his car at Chick and Bills tavern on Delaware Street at 3:54 p.m. to drop off a friend. He was approached by two male youths, one of whom told him to get out of the car. As he got out of the car, one of the waiting youths allegedly pulled out a knife and attempted to slash the youth across the face. He avoided injury by jumping back into the car and driving off. However, the alleged assailant was able to break a window on the car before the vehicle drove away. Police are investigating the incident.

A 15-year-old Washington C.H. Middle School student was allegedly pushed down the stairs by two other students at 12:53 p.m. The student sustained bruises to her left eye. The matter was settled by school authorities who took disciplinary action on the two offenders.

Another assault incident at the Washington C.H. Middle School occurred at 3:30 p.m. and involved a 15-year-old student who was reportedly thrown down and beaten by two waiting juveniles. He managed to get away, but not before sustaining minor head injuries, according to police officers.

A tape player, a citizen's band radio, and a movie projector were reportedly stolen from a car belonging to James C. Ingram, 18, Rt. 3. The articles were apparently stolen sometime between 4 p.m. and 9:15 p.m. Wednesday while Ingram's car was parked in Washington Square Shopping Center parking lot. It was believed that a coat hanger had been used to gain entry to the car and remove the contents valued at $457.

A prybar was apparently used in the process of removing a tape player and two tapes from a car belonging to Joy Wynne, 4570 Washington-Waterloo Road parked at the Clark's Cardinal store. The theft occurred between 6 p.m. and 10 p.m. while the complainant was working at the store.

Sheriff's deputies reported that

Frank Heyob, 51, of Winchester, was arrested for shoplifting a pump type oil can from Seaway discount store, CCC Highway-W. Store officials said Heyob placed the item in his pocket and attempted to leave the store without paying for it.

A two-way radio microphone valued at $40 was reportedly stolen from a truck belonging to Phillip's Rental Co., 276 W. Oakland Ave. The theft apparently occurred Tuesday night, as a broken right wing window was discovered Wednesday morning, police said.

Roses, and Other Things

By Howard Knutson (Rosey)

Continuing our consideration of roses and water: What kind of water will be best to use? Natural, rain water would be most satisfactory, but we can't control this supply. Some people catch rain water in barrels or even cisterns for later use — this is fine if you can catch enough for your needs. A few people are lucky enough to be located beside streams, ponds, or lakes, and can use this source. I have known of people using the water from a child's wading pool instead of just dumping it when changing the water; this is alright if you have not added chlorine too recently. Most of us, however, must depend upon a city water supply. Try to use water from an outlet before it reaches a water softener, firstly to save the expense of softening chemicals, and, more important, to prevent using water with a high content of added chemicals, which can eventually become dangerous for the plant.

We don't think about drinking water as being dangerous, but over a long period of time it can be to plants. Rain water has almost no mineral content, so does not add minerals to our soil. Well and city water always have some, more or less depending on location. You can notice this in containers used to boil water, in the form of deposits left behind. When we use such a source continually for watering, each time a little of the minerals are left in the ground from water used by the plant or evaporation; this process may take years, but eventually these will reach such a level that they will interfere with the ability of the plant to properly take up water, and plant growth will suffer. This problem is especially bad when the soil is basically clay, and good soil and gravel are used to fill a dry pit in order to provide an area for a flower bed and drainage. Here we end up with what has been termed a "bathtub effect": water merely runs into the gravel area at the pit bottom and lies there until evaporation finally occurs, building up high mineral concentrations.

How can we prevent this mineral buildup? First, we have to provide good drainage, so that excess water will completely run off, not just lie in the bottom of the bed. Next, we can incorporate a little gypsum into our soil every season, or at least every other season. This tends to help leach out excess toxic minerals, especially sodium, and at the same time will improve the texture and friability of clay soils, further improving drainage.

A factor often overlooked, even by experienced gardeners, is the effect of air movement on water needs. A plant transpires water through its leaves, and an exposed area with a constant air flow will lose (and therefore will need) more water than a protected area. Ideally you should have frequent light breezes to keep the air slowly moving, and prevent air stagnation. If the area is too exposed, you can break air flow by using air foils — shrubs, fences, small trees — to protect the beds and slow the air.

BPW Club schedules AFS student

The February meeting of the Washington C. H. Business and Professional Women's Club will be held at the Washington Country Club at 6:30 p.m. Feb. 24, with the World Affairs committee in charge of arrangements.

Miss Marie Hatinguais from Saint Etienne de Rouvray, which is a suburb of Rouen, France, will be guest speaker. Marie is an American Field Service exchange senior student at Washington Senior High School. She resides with Mr. and Mrs. John Stimpert, and her American 'sister' Kathy, who is also a senior at WSHS. Marie will show slides of her native country and describe several points of interest.

The music will be presented by the Sunlight Chorus of the First Christian Church, under the direction of Mrs. Christine Jette, and patriotic songs by the Courthouse Company, a quartet, accompanied by Miss Elaine Stookey.

The committee, in carrying out the 'Bicentennial' theme, will be commemorating "President's Day." All are urged to wear red, white and blue.

Committee members are Mrs. Donald Hanes, chairman; Mrs. Bonnie Schneider, Mrs. Patricia Stethem, Mrs. Shirley Morrow, Miss Norita Craycraft, Mrs. Elmer Post and Mrs. Norman Ralston.

Senior Citizens entertained

Mrs. Gerri Greene of the Health Spa recently presented a program for exercises for the Senior Citizens attending the Senior nutrition Program at First Presbyterian Church. At this same time, she indicated that her organization, the Washington Women's and Men's Bowling Association, would sponsor bowling for SC since the tournament time is over. All those interested in bowling and being a 'sideline' participant were urged to sign up the first day of afternoon bowling, which was Wednesday. Approximately 40 indicated they would like to participate in this project.

Only the following were actively engaged in trying their hand at rolling other than gutter balls. Charles Whaley, Thelma Ruth, Florence McCarty, Floyd Dowler, Robert Arnold, Pauline Johnson, Vesper Flint, Alberta Grabill, Lana Taylor, Helen Baughn, Hazel Coder, Nancy Hill, Leona McGinnis, Pauline Richardson, Kenneth Johnson, and Anna Rodgers. Ages ranged from 60 plus to 92 years old. Score for those, 72 high score and low score was 29. A great time was had by all who are most eagerly looking forward to their next outing, March 2. Tony Capuana assisted Mrs. Greene.

Springfield man eyes Senate seat

SPRINGFIELD — "This year the electorate is naming the issues," said John K. Mahoney, who today announced his intention to seek the Tenth District Ohio Senate seat.

"In every community in this district and in Ohio people want a less complicated government and a more responsive government. The real question is who is willing to take action," said the 26-year-old Mahoney.

The Tenth Senate District is comprised of portions of Clark, Fayette, Clinton, Greene, Highland and Madison counties. The southern portion of the district includes the communities of Wilmington, Hillsboro and Washington C.H. The seat is currently being held by State Sen. Max H. Dennis, a Wilmington Republican.

A Democrat, Mahoney is a city commissioner and assistant mayor in Springfield.

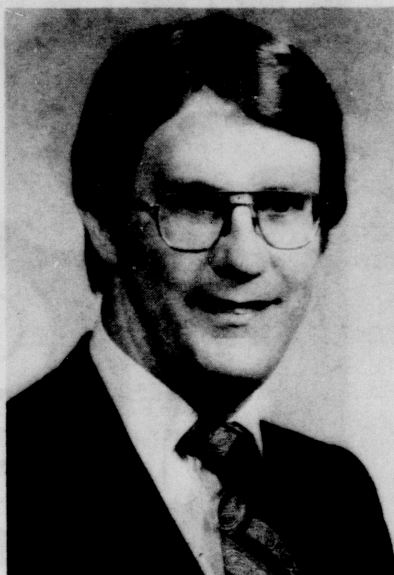

In November of 1973, Mahoney was the youngest city commissioner ever elected in the city of Springfield. In January, he was elected assistant mayor by the city commissioners.

He has served on the Clark County Regional Planning Commission, as a liaison to the city's human relations board, the community development advisory committee and as chairman of the Springfield mass transit committee.

Currently he is also a member of the National League of Cities transportation committee and the Ohio Municipal League's committee on finance and taxation.

Before entering city government, Mahoney attended Marian College in Indianapolis, Ind., and Spalding College in Louisville, Ky., where he received a bachelor of science degree in religion and philosophy. He has completed graduate work at the Earlham School of Religion. He is a member of the Springfield Sertoma Club and the Clark County Democratic Executive Committee.

Ohio Weather Story

By The Associated Press
February will be back today, the National Weather Service said.

The showers and thundershowers that flooded rivers and streams in half a dozen northeastern Ohio counties were to end early today, but the forecast there called for snow flurries.

The mercury could rise as high as 40 today, the weather service said, but would plunge back into the 20s tonight.

CIA man gets 'bugged'

CINCINNATI (AP)—Bugged by the presence of tape recorders, a CIA officer Wednesday refused to begin his lecture at the University of Cincinnati until the electronic devices were turned off.

Gary Foster, a coordinator of academic relations for the Central Intelligence Agency, made the unusual request a day after President Gerald Ford's reorganization of the intelligence-gathering arm.

Foster explained his stand, saying "it would be 1,000 per cent inappropriate for me to interpret President Ford's speech before people at higher levels in my department."

Several radio news reporters walked out of the room, while others remained and took notes.

Foster, invited to the campus as a guest speaker, said he sees the President's action as a move to put more authority behind the CIA director.

'Dear teacher, dear class'

By LEWIS PARRETT
City Elementary Coordinator

Miss Cynthia Jean Morton and her class of 62 kindergarten pupils at Belle Aire Elementary School are featured this week in "Dear Teacher-Dearest Class." She has 31 students in each of her morning and afternoon classes.

Miss Morton was born in Columbus and resided there with her family until she was eight years old. The family then moved to Washington C.H. where she attended Belle Aire Elementary School, the school where she now teaches. She graduated from Washington Senior High School in the class of 1970.

After high school, she attended Kentucky Christian College for three years and Morehead State (Ky.) University for two years. While in college, she was a cheerleader for two years and captain of the cheerleaders one year. She was also secretary of her junior class, secretary of her dormitory council, statistician for the wrestling team, and a member of the Student National Education Association. Following her active life on campus, she received her bachelor of arts degree in the field of elementary education.

Miss Morton is in her first year of teaching in the city school system and did her student teaching at Tildon Hogge Elementary School in Cranston, Kentucky. She also spent three years working in the summer Head Start program here.

She lives at 902 Sycamore Street with her mother, Dorothy. She has a brother, Dan, and a sister-in-law, Pam, of Mount Sterling.

Presently, Miss Morton is working toward her master's degree in education through the Ohio University at Chillicothe and Xavier University. She has many hobbies that she enjoys in her spare time. Among them are water skiing, traveling, sewing, playing tennis, sports as a spectator and participant, involvement with children, helping with the youth at church, working with her St. Bernard, and camping with family and friends. Her favorite colors are yellow and blue, her favorite food is spaghetti, steak, and scalloped potatoes, and her favorite places are near the mountains and ocean.

During the summertime, Miss Morton not only has taught in the Head Start program and Vacation Bible School but also has worked as a lifeguard at the city pool.

Her classes enjoy many varied things including listening to stories, doing work jobs, singing, kickball, tag, swinging and sliding. During the first semester, their Thanksgiving was a little different. To give them a more realistic understanding of the first Thanksgiving, the students and Miss Morton dressed like Pilgrims and Indians at covered tables. For their feast, they had a 16 pound turkey. They learned from this how thankful they really should be all the time and especially for our country.

This coming spring, the class plans to study the farm and its animals by taking a field trip to a farm. Later, they will study basic health habits, learn sounds we use in our language, work to improve their body management skills, and experience working with each other.

Next week, they will be studying a unit about foods by taking a field trip to Pennington Bakery. They will be continuing their study of sounds and the alphabet, working with sets and classifications in math, and general everyday activities.

Miss Morton said, "To love, share, be honest, and care are the most important virtues of a teacher. Without the simplicity of a child, we could not put these into being. Watching a child grow and discover new things are most rewarding for a teacher."

When asked what he enjoyed most about kindergarten, one little boy replied, "Doing our work jobs and making things." One little girl said, "I like the way we love each other best." The host and hostess will vary from time to time during the week.

Miss Morton and her classes extend a warm welcome and a big invitation to everyone that would like to see what kindergarten is all about. The best times are from 10 to 12 and from 1:30 until 3 except Wednesday when the class will be at Pennington's.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 20

ARIES

(March 21 to April 20)

Reflexes, intuition and business acumen should be keen now. Especially favored under day's influences: research, merchandising, all business transactions.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)

Day calls for your best judgment. You may feel "lukewarm" about some suggestions made, but look into them anyway. They COULD prove of value.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

Fine influences! Enterprise, resourcefulness and initiative should spark the day and give you a brand new outlook on all activities.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

Do not pay much attention if associates seem difficult. Some persons may be "edgy" now, so don't take unseemly action personally.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Never mind the odds against you; keep working toward your objectives. There is always a way for the imaginative, optimistic, willing worker. And you are that!

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

More gains indicated than you may anticipate. But there will be SOME obstacles, so pick your way alertly and cautiously, but without anxiety.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Accept the fact that, temporarily, differences of opinion in your circle will be inevitable. Thus, you'll watch your step and do nothing to increase tensions.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

A good day for activation ideas regarding financial expansion. Opportunities for advancing, career-wise, also indicated.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

An exciting, stimulating day! Act with confidence. Luck is with you in dealing with superiors.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Curb inclinations toward extravagance. If you overspend on credit or impulse buying now, you'll regret it later.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Your imagination stimulated, but don't go to extremes in anything. Be especially careful on the social front where you COULD overtax yourself.

PISCES

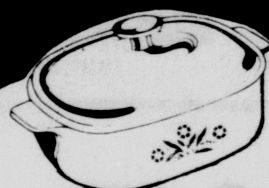

(Feb. 20 to March. 20)

An inspiring day for romance and creative activities. In the latter connection, an avocation may prove to have remunerative value.

YOU BORN TODAY are governed by Neptune, thus have an intense love of the sea and could succeed in almost any occupation which has a maritime aspect. In fact, being essentially artistic and intellectual in your leanings, you are far more likely to embrace a profession for a career than to enter the commercial world, with one exception - ship-building. You are an idealist at heart and a profound thinker. You would make an outstanding philosopher, psychologist, sociologist or educator; may also have an absorbing interest in the occult. You also have a great affinity for the stage and for music; could readily excel in either line.

OFFICIAL DESIGNATION — Scott Gerber and David Knisley, Miami Trace High School students, watch as Robert Mace, chairman of the Fayette County Board of Commissioners, officially declares February 29-March 6 "Miami Trace Scholarship Week".

Restaurant operation set

Scholarship week designated here

Washington C.H. City Council and the Fayette County Board of Commissioners have proclaimed the week of February 29 through March 6 as "Miami Trace Scholarship Week."

Members of the Miami Trace High School National Honor Society chapter will be sponsoring its fifth annual "Scholarship Day" activity at Frisch's Restaurant on Saturday, March 6.

Under the direction of Frisch's Restaurant manager, Vernon Saxton, and National Honor Society advisor, Fred Doyle, student members, who have volunteered their services as waitresses, carhops, busboys, dishwashers, cashiers and hostesses, will be trained for several hours and then will "operate" the restaurant between 7 a.m. and 5 p.m. Frisch's will donate a large percentage of extra business and all tips to the scholarship fund.

During this week the Washington C.H. City Council and Fayette County commissioners urge all businesses, civic groups and residents to show their interest by contributing to the scholarship fund. The scholarships will be based mainly on financial need and ability to succeed as determined by past performance in high school.

Anyone interested in contributing to the scholarship fund can make checks payable to the Miami Trace Scholarship Fund and send them to the high school.

Mad Anne Bailey became part of Ohio's heritage

She did her own thing, this pioneer women's libber of the old Ohio frontier, and men—for the West was a man's world then—called her mad.

Actually, Mad Anne Bailey was just one of a long column of rugged individualists who marched across the pages of Ohio's early history. A few, like Anne, became legends.

It is difficult to separate truth and legend in Anne's story, but it is certain she was one of the strangest figures ever to ride the Ohio wilderness trails. She lived out the last of her 83 years in a crude cabin she built in the hills above Gallipolis.

Born in England before 1745, her first husband was killed at the Battle of Point Pleasant. A second husband, a soldier named John Bailey, also died a violent death.

Called by the Indians "The White Squaw of the Kanawha," she once rode 100 miles over the mountains and back with a cargo of gunpowder needed by a beleaguered fort.

A short burly woman, Anne dressed as the Indian scout she was, carrying rifle, shot pouch, powder horn, scalping knife and tomahawk. She chewed tobacco, drank and swore and day or night might suddenly appear at a lonely frontier station to become a living storybook to river squatters and mountaineers.

Apart from her wild life on the frontier she found time to teach a Sunday School class at Gallipolis, but aside from this one social duty she declined to mingle with community life.

Community Ed report

By HANK SHAFFER
Program Director

The past two weeks we have talked about why Community Education is an economical investment. The first week we gave six reasons why Community Education is economical and last week we spoke on the subject of how Community Education uses existing resources to best benefit the community through our program. This week I would like to tell you about who has supported the program in a substantial way financially.

As we have said before, Community Education is funded through the donations of business firms, foundations, clubs and individuals. We are in the process of giving those people some recognition for their substantial contributions toward the operation of Community Education here in the Washington C.H. area. We are making a wall plaque that will hang in the Washington C.H. Middle School with these names and the years that have contributed to our program. Those that have contributed substantially are:

Charles Stewart Mott Foundation, 1973, 1974 and 1975; Fayette County Charitable Foundation, 1974; First Federal Savings and Loan Association, 1974; First National Bank of Washington C.H., 1974; Mothers Circle, 1974; Washington C.H. Jaycees, 1974 and 1975; Washington C.H. Kiwanis Club, 1974; Washington C.H. Optimist Club, 1975; Washington C.H. Rotary Club, 1974, and the Huntington Bank of Washington C.H., 1974.

These names will be inscribed on the plaque and the names of those groups, business firms, foundations, clubs and individuals that donate substantially during 1976 will have their names put on the plaque to recognize their efforts to help our Community Education program. Anyone wishing to donate can call the Community Education office at 335-6621.

The Elks Lodge No. 129 "hoop shoot" was finished last Saturday as the winning youngsters from their individual schools competed against each other to find the area champions. The youngsters that won will be given their awards during halftime of the Washington C.H.-Circleville basketball game at Washington Senior High School Friday night. Those winning in their age group were from the ages of 8-9, 10-11 and 12-13, and there were divisions for both boys and girls.

Last night, Conchemco defeated Mac Tool to win the Community Education Industrial League with a perfect 10-0

Natural gas regulations approved

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Columbia Gas of Ohio Inc. has been authorized to re-establish service at any time for residential and small commercial customers who have had gas service, the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio said Wednesday.

The authorization was made on condition that the amount of gas used would remain about the same.

Columbia also was authorized to reconnect industrial and large commercial customers within one year.

The commission said it took the action to help redevelopment of inner-city areas in Ohio. One guideline provides that service may not be transferred out of such an area.

The PUCO also ruled that: —Unexercised gas service commitments may be terminated unless customers are ready for full service by March 1, 1977.

—Restoration of service to a new structure on the site of a recently demolished building will be permitted if service had not been transferred. Restoration must take place within five years.

—Residential or commercial property owners may transfer gas volumes from one property to another if the existing structure is demolished and the transfer occurs within five years or by Jan. 1, 1980, whichever comes first.

—Residential, commercial or industrial customers forced to relocate due to highway construction or any public project except urban renewal will be allowed to transfer service within five years or by Jan. 1, 1980, whichever comes later. Former structures must be removed, and volume of service must remain the same.

Lancaster, Ohio, was once known as French Margaret's Town.

TV Viewing

NEW YORK (AP) — Years ago, a lot of high school boys began wearing red windbreakers and appeared awfully tormented. In most cases, the anguish was imitative, brought on by a movie called "Rebel Without a Cause."

But it was a mighty tribute to the acting ability of the late James Dean, the red-jacketed, anguished teen hero of that film. Tonight, his own short, tormented life is being dramatized in a two-hour NBC movie.

Entitled "James Dean," it's well worth your time, if only for the brilliant acting of Stephen McHattie, a young thespian who has Dean's looks, mannerisms and speech patterns down to an uncanny T.

The flick was written by William Bast, Dean's roommate when the two were struggling for success in Hollywood 26 years ago.

It dramatizes Dean's life from the time he and Bast met as young acting students until 1955, when the 24-year-old Dean, at the peak of his fame, died in a car crash in California.

It commences through the somewhat awkward dramatic device of Bast's visit to a psychiatrist after Dean's death, the writer troubled by recurring dreams of Dean being dragged screaming to an ambulance.

"He was the last guy in the world I would have picked for a friend," says Bast (effectively portrayed by Michael Brandon) as he recalls how they first met in a college Shakespeare production in 1950.

With that, the show gets underway, tracing both the friendship of the two men and Dean's career, from the days he scrounged for any kind of work, even TV commercials, to his success in "East of Eden," "Rebel Without a Cause" and "Giant," all made in 1955.

The movie doesn't quite explain how "Deaner" and "Willie" — as they call each other — became such close friends.

But it does effectively depict the former Indiana farm boy as a man of constant curiosity about the acting profession, despite occasional lines that strain to emphasize the point.

One example occurs when Dean, wondering aloud how to depict a homosexual for an acting class, asks his roommate, "Ever make it with a guy?"

Says Bast with a grin, "Come on, I've seen you flatten guys for even joking about it."

Whereupon Dean carries on about the need for good actors "to experience everything we can."

His experiences with the ladies — an actress played by Candy Clark and a dancer played by Meg Foster — are included, but seem only cursory, with no real depth displayed.

The movie also doesn't develop very strongly the reasons for Dean's personal torment, despite his success, or why, in an era when stars still wore suits and ties, he opted for the leather-jacketed image of a Hollywood non-conformist.

Still, "James Dean" is pretty engrossing because of the fine, sensitive acting of McHattie. If he doesn't get an Emmy for his work in this show, someone should complain to the authorities.

Derailment damage reported $20,000

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Derailment of 17 cars of a Chessie System freight train Tuesday caused an estimated $20,000 damage, according to a Chessie spokesman. There were no injuries.

The train was traveling at about 30 miles per hour when the accident occurred at a shunt, where a train goes from one track to another, the railroad's spokesman said.

Gore Vidal files suit

NEW YORK (AP) — Novelist Gore Vidal is suing Truman Capote, Playgirl Magazine and writer Richard Zoerink for $1 million. Vidal charges he was libeled in an article which said he got drunk at the Kennedy White House.

In papers filed Wednesday in State Supreme Court in Manhattan, Vidal said the September 1975 article in Playgirl held him up to "public contempt."

In the article, Capote was quoted as saying that Robert Kennedy, Harvard historian Arthur Schlesinger and a guard "just picked Gore up and carried him to the door and threw him into Pennsylvania Avenue" after Vidal "got drunk and insulted Jackie's mother whom he had never met before in his life."

Letters from readers of The Record-Herald

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

Federal subsidies and grants can very easily and insidiously lead to our downfall and loss of the fundamental concepts of our Republic.

Inherent in federal grants are two fundamental and, I feel, often overlooked principles. Practically all such grants require local or state matching funds. These matching requirements range from ten per cent to as much as 20 or 30 per cent — to the best of my knowledge. For example, if for a proposed project $100,000 in federal funds are requested, $10,000 (10 per cent) would be required in local matching funds and could be as much as twenty or thirty thousand.

Now, let's remember the grant of $100,000 is our money which the federal government has extracted from us principally in federal income tax. Of course, in order to get back a $100,000 grant from the government, several times that amount would have to be raised because a whole hassle of parasitic bureaucrats from here to Washington and back have had their thumbs in the pie in the form of fat salaries. So, it becomes rather obvious that a subdivision could easily bankrupt itself matching its own money with its own money. This is the first inherent principle.

Let's consider the second. In order to receive these grants, some of our freedom of management and choice are always sacrificed. Let me give you an example.

Some few years ago, a church college in Florida built a chapel. When completed, they were told by the Federal government, which furnished the grant, the chapel could not be used for religious purposes.

Recently another similar incident occurred involving a church college in Maryland. In order to qualify for a $373,000 grant, the college had to agree: (1) to remove all religious symbols from the top of the chapel, (2) limit the number of their own members on the board and teaching staff, (3) refrain from sponsoring or conducting any religious services, (4) remain totally neutral to the spiritual development, in a religious sense, of its students, (5) exclude prayers, religious hymns, or sermons in its graduation exercises. Perhaps you will agree with me that this sort of thing strikes at the most basic values of our republic and, for that matter Christian concepts in general.

I believe we need to appraise our priorities very carefully lest we lose some of our most cherished values to governmental bureaucratic demagogues.

I am aware of only one federal program which does not involve matching funds — General Revenue Sharing in which all subdivisions are eligible to participate in varying degrees.

There are two features regarding GRS. The monies are sent directly to the subdivision which greatly diminished the red tape and paper work. There are relatively very few restrictions as to its use. GRS funds cannot be used for education, payment of administrative salaries are used to match other federal monies. These desirable features are the principal reasons the GRS program is having difficulty being renewed. Not enough bureaucratic controls. Your Board of Commissioners has been very careful in the use of GRS funds.

A patriot once said, "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty".

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

The year 1975 was a mixture of troubles and assessments to prevail for the Fayette County Pilot's Association. Inc. Tears, trials and tribulations rampant worldwide did not spare Fayette County Airport. Two local pilots were taken in death. Dale Wade lost his life when he crashed during a local flight. Dr. Charles Pfersich lost his battle with an illness.

The highlights of this year were more of the positive side. Norman Crabtree, Director of Aviation for Ohio, visited Fayette County at our annual fly-in and again at a monthly meeting. He indicated that our airport might soon receive approximately $125,000 for improvement.

Our annual fly-in was a big success both financially and in attendance and presentation of events. Membership in the pilot's association did not increase spectacularly. Aviation celebrated its 72nd birthday on December 17, 1975. We have not yet realized the potential of aviation. The apathy that existed in 1903 is still with us. While the airlines have made tremendous strides in technology, proponents with an equal concern for passenger safety have been far less vocal. The lack of action in Washington, D. C., with respect to aviation, has been totally irresponsible.

The greatest resource in aviation for the lonely taxpayer is general aviation and the local airport. Die hards continue to incorrectly assess the value of their local airport. The failure of Fayette County to allocate a realistic budget for the operation of your airport is illogical. When the dog catching business of a county receives ten times as much money to operate as your airport receives, something is seriously out of balance. Your airport produces income and jobs. Your dog catching business is a dismal failure.

In the early '60's three county commissioners, Bucky Dumford, Robert Fitchthorn and Robert Mace, had the intelligence and foresight to perceive the importance of a local airport. Thanks to them along with Norman Crabtree and Governor Rhodes, we have an airport. The airport has mostly been ignored since.

It is time that we realized that Fayette County would prosper more if more attention was given to the positive aspects of industry and aviation. Why not view agriculture, industry and aviation as compatible? For too many years new industry has been actively discouraged in Fayette County. The fear of increased taxes and wages was the motivation to throttle progress.

In agriculture the trend has been for change. There are fewer farms now. Existing farms are larger. Fewer jobs are available in agriculture. Mechanization and a change in farm products has created fewer jobs. The simultaneous suppression of industrial growth has done little economically that is beneficial for the purse of local government and taxpayers.

Our county government in the last budget proposal for 1976 allocated a little over $1,000 for "Air Navigation Facility". Granted, if our commissioners are not familiar with aviation terms they could easily consult those people who are informed. An air navigation facility is not an airport. Apparently, the commissioners have decided that their budget will take care of the nondirectional radio beacon and provide nothing for the airport. The radio beacon is costing the county a mere $20 monthly to maintain. Nothing is being done to maintain existing facilities at the airport. Nothing is being done to provide for planned improvement at the airport. Nothing is being done to provide for elimination of the safety hazards caused by the cowpath leading to the airport. There exists a serious threat to life both from vehicular traffic and with respect to the wonderful children at the county home.

Nothing is being done to correct the hazard to aircraft caused by the county workers operating their farm equipment across the middle of the runway. Nothing is being done to provide proper buildings for aircraft storage and maintenance. Nothing is being done to accommodate aerial agriculture effort at our airport for the support of local farmers.

The Fayette County Pilot's Association, Inc., is dedicated to the improvement of Fayette County Airport and to the concept that general aviation benefits everyone. If we can get the county to meet their responsibilities at our airport we will have progressed.

I have enjoyed being associated with out airport for the past two years.

Hopefully, we can, through the pilot's association, continue to be an effective force for the improvement of our airport to enhance an importance asset to business and pleasure in aviation.

Jack Sanders,
Past President 1974 and 1975

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

After attending special meetings and regular council meetings there is only one thing you can say about it: It is mass confusion. They knew that they were going to impose the city income tax again so why go through all of this acting?

Four times the taxpayer has spoken and four times they have not listened. They can not seem to stop all of this spending. The time has come when some relief must be provided for the taxpayer.

The reason we are in the shape we are in today is because of the many, many mistakes in the past. This proves that our city council does not try to stay within their means. From the way it looks, they are trying to outspend the federal government.

Why aren't we, the taxpayer, allowed some voice in this officially planned "rip off" other than an opportunity to appear after the damage has been done? Haven't we reached a point where there is too much greed generated by one tax after another?

Now they do not want to show the common courtesy to our loved ones that have passed away and give them an escort to their final resting place where they can rest in peace. I say this is shameful on their part.

They passed the new sewer bill that will cost the taxpayer $23,600,000.00. Now they want to impose another income tax and if we let them do it, where will it all stop?

I'll bet you that those of us who have counted our pennies, budgeted our food bills, sacrificed our pleasures, in order to try to own a little home in which to live and try to stay out of the poorhouse, will continue to get tax bills to pay for these inexcusable errors without ever getting an opportunity to voice our approval or disapproval.

Too often during the past few years we have seen our governments (national, state, county and local) spend and spend and spend to do things less and less and then cry on the taxpayers shoulders and ask them to bail them out. How much longer can you and I afford these shenanigans?

It is my sincere hope that all of you get the message. You'd better. We've had it unless we take the actions necessary to insure that we, the taxpayers, are permitted to play a major role in determining how our city government is to be run. The experience in the past should be enough to awaken all of you. Don't you think the time has come for a change?

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

In reference to the City of Washington Income Tax Forms the following is my concept of the article "Administrator Explains Tax Return Responsibilities," published in The Record-Herald February 11, 1976:

My mailing name and number, as addressed on the form which I received from the City of Washington, Income Tax Department, Washington C. H., Ohio, is Arleigh R. Rankin, 000-01-2831, 4812 Harmony Rd., Washington C. H., Ohio, 43160. The form was mailed as bulk mail (not designated as first class mail). I have lived in Jasper Township for more than 68 years and all of my productive income has come from Jasper and Jefferson Townships, Fayette County, Ohio. I am retired, disabled (teched in the head), unemployed and on the dole. I have collected Medicare.

Recently, I have been harassed and worried by the above mentioned tax form and the news article. My name must have come out of thin air. It is not listed in the telephone directory and the Fayette County Directory doesn't list me as being a resident of Washington or Washington C. H., Ohio. My phone number is 614-948-2289, Milledgeville exchange. As yet, neither directory lists the status of citizens as to activity, source and amount of income, age, net worth, retired or pensioned, family status, credit rating and health as Mr. Ralston M. Smith expects. If we don't watch out there will be a law proposed by tax collectors.

Through the efforts of Mr. Smith and the Steele Data Processing Inc., I have been found, sorted and numbered for future reference. The computerization of citizens in a wanton way is now the privilege of irresponsible individuals and firms. Is it not time to wake up Americans?

My office will give to Mr. Smith a detailed, itemized statement of any of my income that is any of his affair, but not one penny will be paid to mail Mr. Smith a first class letter containing such information. It seems as though I am threatened with criminal prosecution or persecution on 12 counts, a fine of $500, six months in jail, or both, for acts committed in the past six years (1971 included). It would be hard for me to place myself before a self-professed judge and jury.

I am for Washington C. H. 100 per cent and do most of my business there although I do not derive any income from the city. As long as I am treated with courtesy it will continue as such, but certainly I am not tied to this procedure.

Taxes are certainly the business of the citizens of Washington C. H. as long as they are collected legally, without harassment, especially to non tax liable non citizens.

A. R. Rankin

Musical saw revival seen

CINCINNATI (AP)—A few years ago, it seemed that the music world was going to lose the tones of the musical saw, but thanks to practitioners such as Margaret Steinbuch, the instrument is experiencing a revival.

"If they want to hear me play, I'll try to be there," said the Mrs. Steinbuch, who like many saw players, is in her seventies. "There is nothing more satisfying than to hear someone ask me to give a saw concert. In my heart now, I know it's accepted."

Mrs. Steinbuch has ample evidence of her recent success. Her album "Margaret and Her Musical Saw" will soon be available and will make appearances at a local music store.

So much in demand is the saw musician for concerts that she has to limit her engagements. She was the first musical saw musician to perform at the Taft Museum and is a frequent entertainer at schools and hospitals. She has already lined up spring and summer bookings and is appearing on a two-part segment of a local television show.

What delights her audiences is the fact that the saw that Mrs. Steinbuch uses is the same kind that could cut wood. Of course, hers doesn't, but one time, she picked up a workman's saw and amazed everyone by starting to play a tune.

Goldwater sets Columbus speech

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—U.S. Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., is scheduled to speak at a $150 a ticket Republican fundraising dinner here March 15. The dinner is sponsored by the Central Ohio Republican Party.

The French language was the basis for naming several Ohio counties. "Champaign" for level plain, and "Clermont" for clear mountain.

Mrs. Steinbuch's show business career spans a half century. She was a child star, one of the three Davis sisters of Louisville, Ky. The sister act sang and danced their way through 40 of the then 48 states, on the old Pantages and Keith circuits.

She once played the violin, but switched to the saw after seeing one hanging in a music store window. The switch has been a fortunate one.

She recently accompanied her actress-daughter Marsha Myles who was making a movie for Walt Disney.

While she was on location, she entertained the cast with a serenade on her musical saw which included such favorites as "Beautiful Ohio," "I Love Those Dear Hearts and Gentle People," and "Brahms Lullaby."

"After the impromptu concert many of the film's stars asked for my record album to take back to Hollywood with them. Peter Ustinov asked me to autograph his copy. Imagine that? And the film's director, Vince McEveety told me the hymns I played brought tears to his eyes because he remembered those same songs from when his mother played them for him as a child."

Bumgarner holds firm lead

Harvey ups scoring average

With just one or two games remaining in the regular season for the eight South Central Ohio League teams, Circleville's Biff Bumgarner is a solid favorite for the scoring title. Only Hillsboro's Tim Fuller has a chance to catch the Tiger forward in the overall point totals.

Bumgarner has a 21.4 average while Fuller is close behind with a 20.1. Both Circleville and Hillsboro have two regular season games remaining, and Fuller will need to pick up 22 points on Bumgarner.

Rick Seeling, Fuller's teammate remains in third with an 18.7 average, but the Indian forward is too far back to challenge the leaders.

Greenfield's Steve Harvey and Circleville's George Moore are fighting for the third spot with 17-plus averages. Both centers appear to be destined for SCOL first-team honors again this season.

Harvey, who was instrumental in McClain's, post-season tournament drive last year, upped his average by two full points last week after hitting around 15 points a game for most of the season.

The 6-3 pivotman is always a threat to break the 20-point barrier, and he has been doing that consistently for the past two weeks. The Tigers are well down the list in the league standings and coach Sam Snyder's star cager has been going to the basket more.

Miami Trace's Allan Conner moved up two places in the league scoring standings while watching the last three Panther games on the sidelines with an injured wrist.

The Panther forward will be suited up Friday night to take on Harvey and the Tigers in the final game of the regular season.

Wilmington's Tony Berlin dropped from seventh to tenth on the scoring list after being near the top in the league most of the season.

Miami Trace's Dan Gifford and Washington C.H.'s John Denen moved in front of Berlin. Both Fayette County cagers are averaging 14.5-points an outing, but Gifford has scored one more point this season than Denen.

Three other Fayette County players top the league's second ten with Blue Lions Chuck Byrd and Doug Phillips sandwiching Panther sophomore Art Schlichter in 4th place.

One other Panther, Rod Garringer, is averaging more than 10 points giving Miami Trace the most players—four—on this week's list.

STEVE HARVEY — McClain's senior center comes down with a rebound in a game this season and he has been scoring more in the last couple of weeks. His average jumped from 15 points to 17 points in the last two weeks making him a likely repeater on the all-league, first team this season.

Coopman worries champ?

Muhammad Ali sees tough fight

SAN JUAN (AP) — "There ain't no guarantee I'm gonna win."

Muhammad Ali was talking about his heavy-weight title defense against unranked Jean Pierre Coopman Friday night, a fight in which the champion is an overwhelming favorite.

"The fighters who are nuthin' give me hell," said Ali, relaxing in his suite, a suite he was forced out of for a brief time Wednesday when a kitchen fire sent smoke pouring through the El San Juan Hotel.

Ali then mentioned what he said were tough fights against Al "Blue" Lewis, Jurgen Blin, Chuck Wepner and Rudi Luebbers. Luebbers outpointed Coopman in 1974.

"Ken Norton was supposed to be a bum when he fought me the first time and he broke my jaw," said Ali, recalling his 12-round split-decision loss to Norton on March 31, 1973. Norton now is the No. 1 contender.

"Right away when the fight is made, Coopman is a bum," said Angelo Dundee, Ali's trainer. "That puts him (Ali) on guard. He's had trouble with bums. He's concerned about a let-down."

Ali goes into his fight with the 29-year-old Belgian off one of the greatest victories of his career — a 14-round triumph over Joe Frazier in a classic battle in Manila last Oct. 1.

Coopman also appears confident and has said he will win in 11 rounds.

But when the fight was announced last January, the challenger, who understands very little English and speaks only Flemish, was quoted as saying in Belgium that he knew he didn't have a chance but would do his best.

George Kanter, Coopman's U.S. representative, insists Coopman was misquoted.

Coopman, who will be giving away five inches in reach and about 25 pounds to Ali, apparently plans to try to pressure Ali, who has been nursing a cold for 11 days.

Fourth-ranked Knights unbeaten

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Both Rutgers and Syracuse like to do the same thing on a basketball court — run. The only thing is, Rutgers does it better.

"It was a case of two teams with similar styles, but one having more talent," Syracuse Coach Roy Danforth said Wednesday night after a 93-80 beating by the nation's fourth-ranked team.

The Scarlet Knights matched their potent running game against that of the Big Orange and outtraced the Syracuse players to the wire despite a stutter-step or two.

"We've worked on trying to take the air out of the ball when we get a lead, but obviously our kids didn't learn a thing," said Rutgers Coach Tom Young, referring to his team's undisciplined play throughout most of the game.

"Our kids are used to running and they find it difficult to stop. If we don't learn soon, it'll cost us a ballgame."

It hasn't so far. The Scarlet Knights, with a 22-0 record, are only one of two undefeated teams in the country. The other one is top-ranked Indiana.

In other games, second-ranked Marquette defeated DePaul 64-53; third-ranked North Carolina nipped Miami of Ohio 77-75; seventh-ranked Maryland trimmed Georgetown 72-63;

12th-ranked North Carolina State nudged Duke 96-95 in overtime; No. 13 Cincinnati stopped Cincinnati Xavier 81-74 and No. 14 Missouri edged Kansas 61-60.

Sparked by Earl Tatum's 16 points, Marquette's Warriors built a 13-point lead and held off a DePaul charge for their 17th straight victory.

Phil Ford hit two foul shots with four seconds remaining to give North Carolina a narrow victory over determined Miami of Ohio. Miami, which led most of the game, had the last shot, but John Shoemaker missed a desperation 20-foot jumper as time ran out.

John Lucas scored 15 of his 23 points in the second half to pace Maryland over neighboring Georgetown; Craig Davis, held to three points in regulation time, made four free throws in the final minute of overtime as North Carolina State whipped Duke in a tinging Atlantic Coast Conference game.

Circleville, Plains favored

Panthers to host league mat tourney

By PHIL LEWIS
Record-Herald Sports Editor

Miami Trace will host this year's five-team South Central Ohio League wrestling tournament Saturday, and although the Panthers are not listed as a favorite to take the team title, they do have five or six wrestlers listed as individual contenders.

Circleville and Madison Plains are the pre-tournament favorites with 11 and nine seeded wrestlers respectively. Miami Trace, Wilmington and Hillsboro each have six seeded wrestlers, but the Panthers have beaten both the Hurricane and the Indian grapplers in dual meets this year. Trace has lost duals to both Madison Plains and Circleville.

Three Panther wrestlers are seeded first in their respective weight classes. The seeding is determined by the wrestlers' individual season record.

Only Circleville which has been the league wrestling power since the sport was instituted has more first seeded wrestlers.

Sophomore Scott Martin was awarded the first seed in the 138-pound weight class on the merits of his impressive 15-4-1 record this season.

Kurt Klontz at 145 pounds and Kirk Stuckey at 155 pounds are the other top seeded wrestlers. Klontz, a senior co-captain, has a 13-6 record this year while Stuckey sports a 6-5 mark.

These three Panther wrestlers along with senior Jay Crummy at 175 pounds and John Burr at 185 pounds gives coach Glenn Jacobsen a strong, upper weight-class lineup.

Crummy, who owns the Panthers best season record at 11-1, is seeded second in his weight class. Crummy's only loss this season was to Circleville's Bill Mogan in a close decision. The undefeated Mogan was awarded the weight-class' top seed.

Burr has only been wrestling one year, but his 9-7-1 season record was good enough for a third-seed. Bruce Fennig with an 8-8 record grabbed a second seed in the 119-pound weight group. The Panther junior has been coming on strong in the last couple of meets.

Wrestlers to watch at the tournament are:

98—Brian McBrayer of Wilmington heads the list of contenders for the lightest, weight group title. Seeded behind McBrayer is Tim Teart of Madison Plains and Dan DeFrank of Circleville. The Panthers' Rick Ward who is winless on the year will meet DeFrank in the tournament's first-round match.

105—Randy Slutz will be the Trace entry, but he must face top-seed Mike Hamilton of Circleville in the first-round match. Slutz has an 11-8 record this season.

112—Freshman Mike Dunton will wrestle for Miami Trace and he must meet second-seed Keith Cohen of Madison Plains in the first round.

119—Second-seed Bruce Fennig will meet a third-seeded wrestler, Kirk Mobley of Wilmington, in the first round. Dave Teart of Madison Plains is rated first.

126—Butch Bolton of Wilmington and Tom Marshall of Circleville are the wrestlers to beat in this weight class. The Panther entry, Chris Garland, takes on Marshall in the first round.

132—Jim Stuckey with a 4-8-1 mark meets top-seed Wayne Holland of Madison Plains in the first match.

138—Scott Martin, top ranked over Jeff Lackey of Circleville, will wrestle Hillsboro's Tony Trout in the first round.

145—Top-ranked Kurt Klontz meets Joe Leahy of Circleville in the first round. Hillsboro's Steve Kelch and Madison Plains' Bruce Dillon are seeded behind the Panther co-captain.

155—Kirk Stuckey meets Chuck Bartee of Plains in the first round. Stuckey is seeded first ahead of Dave DeFrank of Circleville and Ken Captain of Hillsboro.

167—First-year Panther wrestler Dave Hennessy meets top-seeded John Paine of Circleville in the first match. Delbert Turner of Wilmington and Don Richardson of Madison Plains are ranked behind Paine.

175—In a weight class that should boil down to second-seed Jay Crummy and Circleville's top-seeded Bill Mogan in the championship match, only two wrestlers are ranked. Crummy meets Mike Yates of Plains in the first round.

185—Jerry Strawser another Circleville wrestler is listed first ahead of Keith Gross of Hillsboro and Miami Trace's John Burr.

HVY—Chris Schlichter with a 2-13 season record will face second-seeded Tim Housh of Circleville in the first round. Big Steve Bear of Wilmington is ranked first and Dick Roush of Hillsboro is seeded third in the unlimited weight class.

Lions look for springboard victory over league champs

By MARK REA
Record-Herald Sports Writer

Beating the Circleville Tigers has not come easy for any team in the South Central Ohio League the past two seasons.

Last year, the Tigers compiled an 18-0 record while wrapping up the league title with over three weeks remaining on the schedule. This season, the Tigers sport a 16-1 record, their only loss coming at the hands of Madison Plains at the Eagles' gym.

The Washington C.H. Blue Lions, in second place well behind the newly-crowned champions of the SCOL with a 12-5 mark, hope they can defeat the Tigers in the last game at the season for a tremendous morale lifter.

Lion head coach Gary Shaffer stated that he believed the Lions could beat the Tigers but admitted that it will "take one, big team effort."

Washington is coming off a "big team effort" as they won big over a non-league opponent, Westerville North, on Tuesday by a score of 106-72. The Lions have won eight of their last ten games and seem to have some degree of momentum. Also, they seek revenge for 68-48 licking they took from Circleville earlier in the season.

If momentum is the key to this game, then the Lions have a great deal of it. But, the Tigers have a lot of the substance also. This team, dating back to when they played on the reserve team, has compiled a 52-1 record in the past three years. In addition they have won their last eight games in a row and are rated as the number six team in Class AA in the State of Ohio.

Circleville most certainly beats you with their type of sticky defense. Often times, their defense makes their offense. However, they can boast the SCOL's top scorer in Biff Bumgarner. Bumgarner, named all-everything in football last fall, has proved that his talents also lie on the hardwood.

Bumgarner leads the league with a 21-point average and his overall average comes to a 21.4 percentage. Bumgarner is not alone by any means in the scoring scene at Circleville as George Moore and Mike McCoy consistently hit in double figures.

Moore is the fifth leading scorer in the league with an 18.1 average and is led in the SCOL by Bumgarner, Tim Fuller, Rick Seeling, and Steve Harvey. McCoy, the floor general of the Tigers averages 12.3 points per contest.

Also expected to start for Tigers will be Brent Mancini at forward and Warren Yamarick at guard along with Bumgarner at the forward, Moore in the middle, and McCoy from the other guard position.

The Lions, as they have proved, are a team capable of scoring a lot of points with any number of different people. Persons like Sam McClendon and Randy Jamison, not known for their shooting prowess, have put in some games with some hefty point totals.

Nevertheless, the Lions are led in the scoring column by their big three, Chuck Byrd, Doug Phillips, and John Denen. In league competition, Denen and Byrd have identical 14.5 averages while Phillips is not far behind with an even 14-point average.

Starting will be Ken Upthegrove at center, Phillips and Denen at forward, and either Dee Hart Foster, Byrd, or McClendon at the guard positions.

The game will mark the last home court appearance of six seniors for the Lions: Scott Sefton, Ed DeWees, Jamison, Upthegrove, Byrd, and Phillips.

The game, no doubt, will be played with mid-season intent since both teams would like some type of springboard for their upcoming tournament action. But, with Circleville's past record and the Lions' on-and-off style, the favorites have to be the Tigers.

Athens High School honors cage coach

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — In twist, Athens High School has retired a jersey number in honor of its retiring basketball coach, Charlie McAfee.

McAfee has coached 22 of his 35 high school years at Athens so school officials decided to retire No. 22.

They gave the tall, congenial Iowan the home jersey in a frame and will place the road No. 22 in the school's trophy case.

McAfee, through last weekend, had piled up 571 victories and 194 losses in his career, the first 13 spent at Ames-Bern in Athens County.

Around Ohio: Pat Gallagher coached Cleveland St. Ignatius last season, and now he is preparing Cleveland Collinwood to face his old school for the Senate championship Thursday night. Gallagher's assistant last season, Marty Chambers, coaches St. Ignatius.

Wellsville has won 55 of 56 regular season games, including 21 in a row. Art Timberlake, a 5-foot-11 Canton Lincoln junior, has won that city's scoring title with 417 points, just two more than 6-7 Canton Timken senior Mike Miday. Kevin Best of Canton Lincoln was in third at 408 points.

Coach Don Dupper at Galion is planning a Galion Tournament of Champions wrestling tournament March 20. Dupper will select the top eight wrestlers in each weight division from the applicants.

Steve Swinehart, a Class AAA all-state Lancaster defensive back in football, has accepted a grant-in-aid from South Carolina to play quarterback.

Wheelerburg's streak is up to 30 regular season victories, 16 this winter. If the Pirates beat Portsmouth East and South Webster this weekend, they will earn the school's first undefeated basketball season ever.

Garrettville Garfield has a chance to repeat history. Garfield handed Lordstown its only loss in its finale last winter. Lordstown carries another 19-0 record against Garfield Friday night.

Flashes show talent signs

By The Associated Press

"One game doesn't make a season, but if we played this way every night we would be a good basketball team."

That was Kent State coach Rex Hughes commenting Wednesday on his Golden Flashes' 105-75 rout of hapless Ohio University.

"We haven't defended well at times, and we have to do this to get our running going like tonight," Hughes said.

Hughes' reception for newsmen was much warmer than last Saturday after Kent State lost to Ball State. That day Hughes wouldn't allow the scribes into the dressing room.

"My wife tells me I'm just a little kid," the coach said Wednesday. "Sorry, gentlemen, about the other day."

The Golden Flashes were helped by junior guard Cortez Brown's 38 points, and the victory left Kent State in sole possession of fourth place in the Mid-

American Conference with a 6-5 record. They are 11-10 overall.

Scott Love had 17 points and Mike Corde 14 for Ohio, but the Bobcats fell to 5-6 in the conference and 9-12 on the season.

Miami (Ohio) led most of the way and almost surprised third-ranked North Carolina, but the Tar Heels' Phil Ford converted a pair of free throws with four seconds remaining to give his squad a 77-75 victory.

Miami, which shares the Mid-American Conference lead, outscored North Carolina from the floor 32 field goals to 29 with a 55 per cent shooting average. But the Tar Heels hit 19 foul shots compared to Miami's 11.

Mitch Kupchak had 22 points for North Carolina, which boosted its season mark to 21-2.

Archie Aldridge led Miami, which fell to 14-7, with 19 points.

second-half points to help 13th-ranked Cincinnati past crosstown rival Xavier 81-74.

The victory boosted Cincinnati to 19-3 overall.

Freshman guard Nick Daniels had 23 points for Xavier, but the loss dropped his team to 11-10.

Dick Steineman led Ashland over Walsh 97-92 with his 30 points. Ashland jumped to 17-4, while Walsh, its three-game winning skein snapped, fell to 11-10.

Cleveland State evened its season series with Akron with a 62-50 non-conference triumph. Junior Center Dave Kyle led the winners with 22 points, while Lou Hardy and James Abrams had 14 points each for the Zips.

Findlay, led by Rick Thralls' 24 points, snapped Earlham's 13-game winning streak with an 87-80 triumph. Ed Urbanek had 26 for the losers, who had six men in double figures. Findlay rose to 15-7, while Earlham slipped to 19-5.

Elsewhere, it was Manchester 91-81 over Bluffton, Hiram 76-75 over John Carroll, Ohio Dominican 95-87 over Wilberforce, Northern Kentucky 85-73 over Wright State and Case Western Reserve 82-73 over Thiel.

Sports briefs

Reds name Woodward replacement

CINCINNATI (AP) — Sportscaster Bill Brown was named by Avco Broadcasting to handle 35 television games for the World Champion Cincinnati Reds in 1976.

Brown, 28, a sports staffer at WLW-T in Cincinnati, replaces former Reds second baseman Woody Woodward. Ken Coleman will continue as part of the broadcast team.

MOC cage tourney slated this weekend

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — League champion Tiffin entertains Urbana and Cedarville plays at Rio Grande in opening games Friday night of the Mid-Ohio Conference college basketball tournament.

Malone, which actually posted the best conference record of 10-2, is on probation and ineligible in the Mid-Ohio this season.

Bye Knight wins feature at Lebanon

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Bye Knight caught Brian's Stottie Jeff at the wire in a photo finish to win the featured pace mile by a nose at Lebanon Wednesday night.

The winner paid $8, $3.60 and $2.60. The place horse paid $2.80 and $2.20 and the show horse, Shootum Up, $2.80.

Winning time was 2:10.3-5.

The 4-6 daily double of Bengals Eddie and Curious Craig returned $10.80 and the crowd of 1,210 bet $92,653.

Brad Longberry named top OAC player

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ohio Northern sophomore Brad Longberry is the choice for Ohio Conference Player of the Week in a poll of the league's basketball coaches.

The 6-foot-5 center led the Polar Bears to a 93-78 victory over Kenyon with 34 points and 12 rebounds, then led Northern to a 72-66 victory over Muskingum with 19 points and six rebounds. The victories clinched at tie for the OAC Northern Division title for Northern.

Port Huron flags swamp Komets, 6-1

By The Associated Press

Center Len Fontaine scored five goals as the Port Huron Flags breezed to a 6-1 International Hockey League victory Wednesday night over the Ft. Wayne Komets.

Fontaine's five-goal spurge edged him ahead of Flint's Kirk Bowman as the IHL's scoring leader, an honor Bowman had held to this point in the season.

Cincy Reds good losers in superteam

CINCINNATI (AP)—If the recent Superteam competition in Honolulu, Hawaii proved anything, it was that losing can be bearable.

The Cincinnati Reds, champions of the world of baseball, lost in the finals of the promotion filmed for television, but still came home with $11,300 for each of the 10 Reds who participated.

In addition to the money, the players from the Reds, Pittsburgh Steelers, Boston Red Sox and Dallas Cowboys received everything free—food, lodging and transportation.

"Every vacation ought to be like that," said Pete Rose, who helped put the Reds into contention with a sterling performance in the tandem bicycle relay.

The Reds and Steelers were even with the Steelers going into the final event, the tug-of-war. The tug-of-war rules say that each team can have 1,500 pounds on its side of the rope.

A year ago, the Steelers lost the event because they went with their biggest men while the secret is to have more people than muscle.

This time, the National Football League champions used seven men and it added up to the 1,500 man limit. The Reds also used seven men, but the combined weight was just 1,430 pounds.

"If you blinked you missed it," said Rose.

Granting Permission to Smoke

We suspect that our 15-year-old daughter has been smoking for more than six months. At a party for her friends in our house she openly smoked in front of us. Now she wants permission to smoke. She insists that she can stop any time she wants to. She reads your column. We would appreciate your comments.

Mr. & Mrs. R. R., Pa.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. R.: Unfortunately this is a universal problem. Many parents fall into a trap when they give their children "permission" to smoke.

Frequently they say, "If you're going to smoke behind our backs we'd rather you did so openly." In essence, however, this means that parents are sanctioning smoking.

Far too often this attitude is an excuse for the inability of parents to exercise their own mature judgment. By firmly stating, "You do not have our permission to smoke in our presence or behind our backs," a rule is firmly set down.

It is also of psychological importance to understand that children, adolescents and even young adults thrive on the secure knowledge that their parents "care" enough to set down rules and limitations.

There is no denying that tobacco is a major health hazard. It is difficult for young people who are in perfect health to understand that years of tobacco smoking can reduce their longevity by five or 10 years.

Youth cannot project that far in advance. They have a misconception that smoking will make them more acceptable with their peers. Actually, the reverse is true. Many young people who now are confirmed smokers admit to tremendous admiration for those who have successfully avoided the trap of smoking.

We have all heard the argument of young adolescents who insist that they can stop smoking at any time. If your daughter will just look around and honestly evaluate the situation she will see how quickly the smoker who can "easily stop" has graduated into the proverbial "pack a day."

Public health officials, doctors and educators are now concentrating on the 7, 8 and 9 year old child. Their sensitive minds can be impressed with the dangers of tobacco. It is amazing how often these children, as they grow into adolescents, are freed from the temptation of tobacco.

It is also astonishing to find that they make a tremendous impact on their smoking parents and frequently are the reasons why adults, too, give up the dangerous practice of smoking.

DR. COLEMAN welcomes letters from readers, and, while he cannot undertake to answer each one, he will use questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Coleman in care of this newspaper.

Opening lead - five of spades.

I was playing in a tournament some years ago in Juan les Pins, France, when this deal arose.

My partner was Dorothy Hayden, of New York, and our opponents were two Frenchmen we had never seen before. West doubled two diamonds, which was certainly reasonable, and led a spade.

Mrs. Hayden won the queen with the ace and returned a low heart. Worried that the heart might be a singleton, West rose with the ace, and East — who wanted no other suit led — played the jack. West returned a heart, won by South with the ten.

Fully aware that the trumps were stacked against her, Mrs. Hayden played a low diamond from her hand. West took the ten but was endplayed! He had to give away a trick, whatever he returned.

Hoping to find East with the king, West led the A-10 of clubs. Mrs. Hayden won with the king and returned the five of diamonds, putting West under pressure again.

If he took the jack and exited with a club, declarer would ruff, play the ace and another trump, and thus force West to play a heart to the K-Q.

If he ducked the diamond, hoping East could win the trick, the outcome would be the same. West was thoroughly licked and he knew it. Actually he ducked, and Mrs. Hayden made two diamonds doubled.

Later that day, Mrs. Rixi Marcus, England's top woman player, came to me and said West had asked her: "Who is that tall, attractive Englishwoman who is such a good player?"

Mrs. Marcus, recognizing from the description that it was Mrs. Hayden, answered: "If she's attractive and English, she's not a good player; if she's English and a good player, she's not attractive; and if she's attractive and a good player, she's not English!"

Deer killed in auto mishap near village

A Sabina man struck and killed a deer Wednesday evening near Bloomingburg, Fayette County Sheriff's deputies reported. Washington C. H. police investigated three mishaps, one in which a Washington C. H. woman was slightly injured when the car she was driving struck a utility pole.

A car driven by Kenneth D. Debold, 27, of Sabina, struck and killed at 6:55 p.m. a doe which had run onto the road, just south of Bloomingburg on Ohio 238. The deer was killed upon impact, and damage to the car was minor.

Rosemary Leath, 52, of 226 Fairview Ave., suffered a minor injury when the car she was driving struck a utility pole at 3:55 p.m. Wednesday. She had attempted to swerve out of the way of an unidentified car that was pulling from the Clark service station and into her path of direction on W. Court Street. The front of her car sustained heavy damage, and Washington C. H. police are attempting to locate the driver of the unidentified vehicle.

A car driven by Donald E. Elliot, 47, of 919 N. North St., which was leaving the Fayette County Memorial Hospital parking lot, was struck by a car driven by Mary C. West, 35, of 222 W. Market St., at 3:56 p.m. Wednesday. She was leaving her parking space and apparently did not see the oncoming vehicle. Damage was minor.

A car driven by George R. Hall, 72, of 223 E. Circle Ave., backed from a parking space into the path of a car driven by Paulette L. Trinidad, 30, of South Vienna, near the intersection of Hinde Street and W. Market Street. Damage was minor in the 11:40 a.m. accident.

Traffic Court

A single traffic offense was heard by Washington C.H. Municipal Court Judge Robert L. Simpson Wednesday morning.

Earl W. Hunt, 29, of New Holland, was found guilty of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol. He was fined $200, sentenced to three days in jail, and had his license suspended for 30 days.

Samuel Brady, a frontier scout who ranked with Simon Kenton and Daniel Boone in the Ohio region, escaped from the Indians in May of 1780 by leaping a Cuyahoga River gorge on the present site of Kent. The spot is still called Brady's Leap and is a tourist attraction.

Animal clinic opened

At a ribbon-cutting ceremony held Thursday morning, the Ambassadors Club of the Washington C.H. Area Chamber of Commerce officially opened a new animal clinic owned and operated by Washington C.H. veterinarians Dr. D.R. Junk and his son, Dr. Gary D. Junk.

The veterinarians conducted a tour through the clinic which, after expansion of existing facilities, now includes three examining rooms, a laboratory-pharmacy, kennel room, and a new surgery area. A garage situated nearby will be used for large animal surgery.

A new heating and air-conditioning system has been installed as well as the construction of a combination waiting room-business office.

The animal clinic and veterinary offices are located at 1973 CCC Highway-E.

Insurance suit filed in factory blaze

HARTFORD (AP) — The parent company of a Shelton factory that was gutted by arson last March has broadened its quest of insurance payments with a $67.6 million lawsuit against an insurance company and its broker.

The suit is the second one to be filed this week in connection with the firebombing and comes nearly a month after the president of the parent company was acquitted of arson-related charges in the case.

The Superior Court suit was served Wednesday with state officials that license Protection Mutual Insurance Co. of Park Ridge, Ill., and the broker, Wilson & Allen, Inc., of New York City to do business in Connecticut.

Grand Sheet, parent company of Sponge Rubber Products Co. of Shelton, also filed a $6.6 million suit Tuesday in U.S. District Court against a syndicate of 36 insurance companies it claims also insured the Shelton plant.

In the state court suit, Grand Sheet claims losses involving buildings, property, contents and business interruption in excess of the amount claimed in the earlier suit.

It also seeks unspecified punitive damages, accusing Protection Mutual of bad faith dealings in an attempt to link the arson with company officials and Wilson & Allen of falsely representing the extent of insurance coverage on the Shelton company.

Protection Mutual has rejected Grand Sheet's insurance claims ever since its president, Ohio millionaire Charles D. Moeller, was indicted with nine other men on charges of conspiring to blow up the 2½-block-long factory. He is president of Grand Sheet and its parent firm, Ohio Decorative Products Corp.

Moeller, 48, of Cridersville, Ohio, was acquitted Jan. 23 by a U.S. District Court jury of all four counts against him. He has been accused of ordering the building destroyed to obtain insurance benefits.

Six other defendants, including a former director of Sponge Rubber's parent company, were convicted of arson-related charges. A second man was acquitted, proceedings against another defendant ended in a mistrial and the 10th man pleaded guilty before the trial.

Housing starts decline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of new housing units started in January fell for the third consecutive month and has reached the lowest level in six months, the government says.

The Commerce Department said Wednesday the number of houses and apartments started during January fell by an annual rate of 70,000 units, or by 5.4 per cent, to an annual rate of 1.221 million.

The drop indicated a weakening of the anemic recovery so far in the housing industry. However, the news was muted by word that builders increased by 10.7 per cent in January the number of housing units authorized by building permits.

The number of permits issued is an indicator of future activity in the industry, and January's authorized number of units hit an annual rate of 1.138 million. That was the highest number authorized for any month since the 1.159 in May 1974 and represents an advance of 65 per cent over January of last year.
